Today

Hoover and the Serfs.
Campaign Fairy Tales.
Dumping Dollars Abroad.
Bitterness in Mexico.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928)

JOHN SULLIVAN, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, says Herbert Hoover in Asia didn't give labor the right chance. "He employed coolies in China, serfs in Russia and slaves in Burmah." Mr. Sullivan's authority for the statement is James J. O'Brien, a contractor, who lives in Flushing, N. Y.

THERE must be some mistake about Mr. Hoover "employing serfs in Russia" because the serfs in Russia were freed in 1861, and Hoover was born in 1874.

The accusation that Hoover "employed coolies in China" is like saying he employed laborers in the United States. All laborers in China are called coolies. You can't hire mandarins to work with pick and shovel.

GOV. BILBO, of Mississippi, in a public address, helped circulate a campaign yarn that Mr. Hoover had danced with a colored lady named Mrs. Booze, officially connected with the Republican party in the South.

Mr. Hoover, to his regret, probably does not dance.

ANYHOW, the Mississippi yarn need not bother him. When Abraham Lincoln came to New York as candidate for the presidency, it was said he had married a colored woman. He replied that he did not find it necessary to make a black woman his wife or his slave. He was elected.

CALL money went to 8 per cent yesterday. High finance that worries about brokers' loans, sums that Americans borrow when they purchase stocks on time payments, might worry about something more important.

THOSE same high financiers are promoting European loans, shipping a thousand million dollars of American money to Europe every year and incidentally taking a comfortable "rakeoff" on each of the loans for themselves.

EVEN the most innocent among them, including childish geese that bought Russian bonds, must know that millions now sent abroad in exchange for printed pieces of European paper will never come back.

At least, when men borrow money in Wall street to buy stocks, wisely or unwisely, the money and the stocks STAY HERE.

THE bitterness of religious quarrels is shown in Associated Press news from Mexico. Carlos Castro Balda pleaded guilty of placing bombs in the Chamber of Deputies to frighten and punish those that had oppressed the Catholic Church.

Senorita Manzano confessed that she planned, and attempted, to kill President Calles by stabbing him at a dance with a poisoned needle.

Balda, confessing placing the bombs, said they were purposely made weak, to frighten without doing much damage.

YOUNG Mr. Chung Ji-Miao, Chinese law student, married Wai Jung Sui, daughter of a rich merchant, took her to England and there murdered her.

Mr. Chung made his mistake when he went to England. They will hang him in a few days, in spite of his ingenious story about mysterious Oriental assassins committing the crime.

IN ENGLAND, when you kill anybody, they hang you without loss of time. Excuses and explanations are not accepted. It is in this country that murderers in great numbers go free, and even those caught and convicted have two or three years to think it over.

IN THE big war, when airplanes raided London and Paris, the inhabitants were warned by the noise of the engines. They will not be warned in the next war, for a device is shown making an airplane engine absolutely noiseless.

DR. CARLEN'S invention, costing only $20, creates an "air vacuum," deadening the engine sound completely. Next some one will eliminate noise of the propeller.

IN THE next war you will know that airplanes are attacking your city only when bombs explode in streets, or on roofs, and gas begins to do its work.

When that happens, our Congress will propably appropriate large sums for building airplanes, and even decide to have a separate department for the national air force.

ENGLAND and France are "puzzled by President Coolidge's views on international naval agreements" and ask, "What does America want?" They feel, in a general way, that we don't know our own minds, and think we should be satisfied to let them, older and more experienced, make arrangements for themselves and us.

WHY wouldn't it be a good idea for this country to mind its own business, and do what it thinks best about armaments and other things, in the future as in the past?

Why consult France or England as to what THIS country shall do?

Those countries did not consult us before they started their big war.

ANTOINETTE BOOTS

Today the score in the case of Gibby Welch vs. Marriage is 3 to 1. Antoinette Boots, New York musical comedy actress, is "very, very happy" and Gibby, former Pitt all-America halfback, continues to play professional football. First, Gibby and Antoinette simultaneously in New York announced they'd be married. Then Gibby's parents in West Virginia denied the engagement. Now, Antoinette's parents, in a small Iowa city, formally announce it.

ZEP'S FLIGHT OFF

SIFT RUM RECORD THEFT

Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh today started an investigation which, if successful, should answer these questions:

1—Who stole from the city detectives' office the signed confessions of two constables which implicated a justice of the peace and two other constables?

2—Who sold those papers back to the confessed extortionists for $2,000?

This investigation was inspired by something that happened yesterday in Criminal Court. Justice of the Peace C. J. Ranshaw, of Neville township, and four constables, were convicted of extortion. They were surprised by the verdict so they decided to "get even," it is alleged.

BUY BACK EVIDENCE

It is charged that two confessions made by Constable Raymond Bengle, of Alleppo township, and Frank Marz, of Neville township, had been bought back, and that they had paid $2,000 to a go-between who happened to be a North Side bootlegger.

The other two defendants were Constables Paul Sweeney, of Allepo township, and Constable J. V. Groom, of Neville township. Attorney Eccles, defense counsel, said all but Groom were implicated in the purchase of the papers.

Despite the absence of the confessions, Assistant District Attorney Roy T. Clunk had been able to get a guilty verdict against all five. He did have as evidence $375 in marked money which the defendants had taken from bush-league bootleggers to "fix" minor offenses.

The racket of the constables and the justice, it was charged, was to raid and then have the defendants discharged—after, of course, something had exchanged hands on the side.

Walsh didn't get very far in his investigation today. Detective Inspector Frank Boyd, from whose office the two confessions were presumably stolen, couldn't contribute any information because, he said he wasn't the inspector when the case was developed.

Clyde S. Edeburn, who was the inspector, said all the stuff was handled by two detectives—Pete Connors and P. E. (Hap) Moran, neither of whom is still on the detective force. Moran is off the force

BUS PROFIT HIDDEN IN 'SMOKE'

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

The earnings of bus lines during a seasonally dull period of the year and the results from new lines which have not had time to attract a normal volume of traffic are not a true measure of the justice of bus fares, although A. W. Robertson, president of the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, cited such statistics to uphold the 25-cent rate.

Mr. Robertson correctly stated that a loss of $16,251 was shown in July, August and September. But a comparison with the corresponding period of last year shows that similar conditions existed.

The entire year of 1927 was a good one from the standpoint of bus earnings. The company made 12.49 per cent on its investment that year, but only $360 of this was earned in the three months mentioned. The fact that a loss was shown in the same period of this year was due to the opening of new lines, as Mr. Robertson admits.

In July of last year a loss of $456 was shown. In August the loss was $4,538. The loss of $4,371 in August of this year was not as great as last year, while the loss of $4,931 in July was greater.

Total receipts for the three months were 40 per cent greater than last year, which indicates that the new lines to Highland Park, Charleroi and the North and South Parks have not been in operation long enough to secure a paying volume of business. Such a condition is common to most new enterprises so that profits or losses from the first few months or even the first few years prove nothing about future earnings.

The earnings being made from the lines first started by the bus company give the real picture of profits from 25-cent bus fares.

Gross receipts in September of 1927 were greater than in August, but this year a decrease was shown in comparison with the previous month. No explanation of this is available unless it can be attributed to public reaction to the unfavorable publicity recently given the bus lines. This decline in revenue was, to a large extent, responsible for the fact that a loss of $5,193 was shown in September, 1928, while a profit of $4,442 was shown in the year before. This turn in the trend of revenues made Mr. Robertson's figures look more convincing.

PEGGY JOYCE

Once again Peggy Hopkins Joyce will marry. Today, immediately upon hearing that the former Follies beauty, Jessica Brown, had been granted a divorce from him by Edinburgh (Scotland) courts in an action he didn't contest, Lord Northesk announced that he will marry Peggy "as soon as she's ready." Peggy said a month ago they'd marry as soon as the divorce was granted.

PGH. VISIT CANCELLED; ECKENER BLAMES STORMS

International News Service.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 26.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, announced today that the proposed flight of the dirigible over Pittsburgh and the Middle West had been cancelled.

Unfavorable weather existed again today and, after studying the maps this morning, Dr. Eckener announced a few minutes after 10:30 that the inland trip was definitely off. He made the decision reluctantly as he had hoped to be able to give the people of the Middle West an opportunity to view the huge, silver-bodied air liner which recently made an historical flight from Freidrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst.

The desire to make the return flight to Germany as soon as possible was an influencing facter in Dr. Eckener's decision.

A low pressure area over the Great Lakes region resulted in the inland trip's being called off at the last minute last night after some of the 21 invited passengers and guests were aboard.

This morning the passengers were again ready, but reports were that the weather was no better.

"If the weather is favorable we will start for Germany Monday, provided, of course, that the ship is ready," said Dr. Eckener.

The crew of the Zeppelin, assisted by members of the crew of the dirigible Los Angeles, began replacing gasoline with gaseous fuel immediately after Dr. Eckener had called off the Middle West flight. About 50 hours will be required for the fueling and general preparation for the trans-Atlantic flight.

Dr. Eckener said he would "look forward to making the western flight after our ship has been proven by another round trip over the Atlantic."

PGH. MAN'S BRIDE ENDS LIFE WITH GUN

International News Service.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Police attempted to unravel the mystery today surrounding the suicide of Miss Pola Swain, 25, five hours before the time set for her wedding. She was to have married Paul Baird, of Pittsburgh, in Calvary Protestant Church, Germantown, at 8 o'clock, but a short time before she was found dead in her apartment by a Negro maid.

A bullet wound was in the right temple while a small pistol was found grasped in the girl's right hand.

Miss Swain left no clues as to her motive for taking her own life. An unaddressed and unsigned note was found near the body. It read,

"Am tired of it all. Too tired to live any longer. Am sorry. Please forgive."

More than two score guests had been invited to the wedding. The guests, the choir and minister were gathered at the church for the ceremony when they were informed of the suicide.

A brother, Robert E. Swain, of Montclair, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. R. S. Cologne, Garden City, N. Y., declared their sister had no troubles or worry.

Baird, a musician, was reported

EAST-WEST AIR KINGS AFTER NEW RECORD

International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Holders of a new record for nonstop East to West transcontinental flying, Capt. C. B. D. Collyer, of New York, and Harry Tucker, millionaire Los Angeles sportsman, will take off within 10 days in their Lockheed-Vega monoplane Yankee Doodle in an attempt to shatter the West to East cross-country record.

This was the announcement today made by Tucker, owner of the torpedo-shaped craft, which yesterday afternoon swooped down upon Mines Field after having flown from Roosevelt Field, New York, in the record time of 24 hours and 51 minutes.

The previous East to West nonstop mark was 26 hours and 50 minutes, set up by Lieuts. MacReady and Kelley, the Army fliers.

The West to East record which Capt. Collyer and Tucker will seek to lower is 18 hours and 58 minutes, made by Art Goebel in the Yankee Doodle last summer.

PINCHOT TALKS HERE, HE FAVORS HOOVER

"I'm for Hoover and he's going to win; outside of that I have nothing to say politically, as I am here to attend the services in honor of Theodore Roosevelt," former Gov. Gifford Pinchot declared today in the office of County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern.

Pinchot was the principal speaker at exercises this afternoon in Carnegie Music Hall, Forbes street, under the auspices of the Roosevelt Commemoration Association, of which McGovern is president.

The former governor arrived in Pittsburgh about 10:30 a. m. and, after meeting Col. McGovern, made a few calls in the interest of the proposed amendment, to the state Constitution which authorizes $25,000,000 for the purchase by the state of additional land for forest purposes.

Pinchot will leave Pittsburgh tomorrow morning.

BEGIN INDICTMENTS IN HUGE GRAFT RING

Work was begun in the district attorney's office today to prepare for court action the story of graft and corruption told the grand jury by Albert Forney and his fellow racketeers.

District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner and his assistant, Andrew T. Park, were whipping into shape the presentment which they expect to submit to Judge James B. Drew Tuesday. They expected to devote three days to the job, then reconvene the jury and begin work on indictments.

The number of indictments predicted went up considerably yesterday after Forney had, according to Gardner, "told all." After the slot machine king had been grilled for an hour and 15 minutes, the district attorney came from the grand jury room and said:

"He didn't tell everything I'd like to know; but I think he told all he knew. I'm satisfied."

Gardner hinted that Forney had swung a damaging axe at the multi-branched graft tree, but he would not be specific about where the chips had fallen. Some had fallen in high and a lot in low places, said Gardner, but he could not classify any of those places as official.

GAMBLES FOR LIBERTY

But Forney's attitude hinted he had chosen to, as the phrase goes, "shoot the works" and take his chances on the immunity which Judge Drew had announced positively would not be given to him.

Flanked by Jail Warden McNeil, Attorney Hiram Hirsh and a county detective, he came into the court house striding jerkily and chatting in staccato. He proved to be a tall, rangy man with an air of desperation and a surplus of jewelry. Flashlights boomed. Forney pulled his hat over his face and scurried for the district attorney's office.

There he went into conference with Gardner and Hirsh after a friendly handclasp with the district attorney. When the conference ended, the photographers made more smoke, Forney took refuge behind his hat, and they whisked him away into the grand jury room.

RUNS BACK TO JAIL

When Forney emerged from his inquisition, the spectators had the privilege of seeing a reputed millionaire racketeer actually running back to jail. With the ubiquitous hat over his face, he went down the corridor at the double, scuttled like a frightened rabbit down the steps, and upset McNeil at the Ross street door. McNeil tumbled down the steps into Ross street, but Forney kept going—right back to jail.

DEMAND HOOVER ADS OFF PUBLIC BLDGS.

Demanding that Hoover-Curtis placards be immediately removed from the windows and offices of the courthouse, a committee from the Italian division of the Democratic state organization met with County Commissioner C. C. McGovern today. Commissioners Joseph G. Armstrong and E. V. Babcock were not present.

Following the meeting with McGovern, the spokesman for the committee announced that an audience with Mayor Charles H. Kline had been arranged for late this afternoon. Formal objections will be made to the Mayor to have all political advertisements removed from the City-County Building and from city offices.

Both City-County and Courthouse buildings are literally covered with pictures of Republican candidates. Commissioner McGovern did not announce what steps he would take in having the posters removed. Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, who happened to be in Commissioner McGovern's office when the committee called, was an interested listener to the objections of the committee. Mr. Pinchot did not make any comment.

The committee included Attorney Conrad H. Checco, Dr. Frank C. Ferranti, Charles P. Coscia, Salvatore Sunseri and Attorney Joseph Rossi.

The political advertising posters are a violation of an act of Assembly passed in 1903, Checco argued.

PITT STUDENTS RIOT AND STORM THEATER

The male portion of Pitt's student body today showed plainly its confidence in tomorrow's city championship football game between Pitt and Tech by storming the Academy Theater this afternoon and making whopee. They made so much whopee the management sent in a riot call to police. This is an annual riot call.

A second riot squad of 10 patrolmen was rushed to the scene from the North Side Police Station when the Central station squad called for help as soon as they reached the theater.

The students exhibited great enthusiasm once the matinee curtain was lifted and two score of the most beautiful damsels ever seen on the American stage went into their terpsichore.

It was the expressed intention of the Pitt students to make more and better whoopee than Duquesne University students emitted two weeks ago when Duquesne defeated Washington and Jefferson.

At least 2,000 knowledge-hungry young men and women gathered on streets near the campus and paraded through Fifth avenue to the downtown district, giving vent the while to strange noises that might have been taken to express the optimism of youth. Then they rushed the theater doors.

HOOVER IS LAUDED BY J. F. BURKE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—Herbert Hoover, the man, was pictured to the voters of the country last night by James Francis Burke, general counsel of the Republican National Committee, in a radio address from Washington which was broadcast over a nation-wide hookup.

Burke, close friend of the presidential candidate, described Hoover as "a strong, quiet, modest individual," and said his chief characteristic was "the possession of those major virtues of mind and heart that have translated themselves into great accomplishments for the benefit of mankind, with continued sacrifice of opportunities for his own enrichment."

"There is a charm in his modesty that holds his friends with hooks of steel," Burke asserted. "There is a faith that imparts a militant confidence to his followers. There is a capacity for quick decision that begets self-reliance in those about him. There is a willingness to take advice that proves his tolerance of others' views.

STRAIGHT THINKER

"His mind and manner has comforted millions in distress, has clarified the doubts of cabinets, has pointed out the paths for presidents to pursue and given an irresistible impulse to straight thinking in the midst of turmoil and confusion.

"He humanizes everything he touches and clarifies every problem that confronts him. He is never excited and never demonstrative. He is a stranger to ecstacy, but a constant companion of good cheer. If he had his way, he would banish gloom, drive every shadow of sorrow from the world and fill its place with sunshine and happy human beings.

"He thinks faster than he can write, and when he is at a loss for a word he just invents one, and it is unusually expressive. The first copy of every speech is twice as long as the last. He blue pencils until all the choicest of his thoughts are left.

FED NEUTRALS

"Now for his confidence and courage—when all the allied powers of Europe were against him in his determination to break down the blockade and feed the starving people of Germany, he battled single-handed and alone until he compelled them to yield. When he declared—'There is no justification in the laws of God or man to deprive starving neutrals of food,' he determined to carry that declaration into effect in spite of all of the opposition on earth—and he did.

"He abhors adulation. He appreciates a worthwhile compliment, but he is quick to detect empty flattery.

"He has a contempt for counterfeits and for carping critics who block the wheels of progress and contribute nothing constructive to the world. He has a loathing for the talebearer, the character assassin and the peddler of perfidy.

RELIGIOUS BELIEF SACRED

"He believes every man's politics is his own affair. He believes every man's religion is a sacred relationship between himself and his God, with which no other man has the right to interfere, and that every man's obligation to his country is the same regardless of learning, wealth or social status.

"There is no method of world diplomacy with which he has not long been familiar. There is no world market, the source of its supply, or the volume of its demand, whose details he does not know. There is no section of our republic and no problem of our people of which he has not been a student and a master.

"He sits before a map, and every corner of the nation and every industry, product and habit of our people are as clearly within his grasp as the paths, the flowers, and the trees and children at play on our front lawn. He has mastered the story of American and her resources. His broad knowledge of people, places and products has no equal anywhere on this continent."

Later his aunt received a wedding invitation.

FOUR ARRESTS FOIL BIG DOPE SWINDLE

An attempt to swindle Pittsburgh drug addicts of thousands of dollars through the sale of starch as heroin, was frustrated last night by government narcotic agents and city detectives. They arrested four Spaniards, under surveillance for more than a week.

According to the officers, the stage was all set to lure the dope addicts into a room in a downtown hotel to close deals for the fake drug, which, the swindlers pretended, had been smuggled into this country on a Spanish ship.

Jose Alvarez, 28, of New York, one of the four under arrest, posed as a sailor.

The others arrested were Roque Guerrero, 29, and Claudio Lopez, 28, of New York, and Joseph Garcia, 28, of Homestead. The arrests were made by Government Narcotic Agents William T. Duffy, Joseph Colebob and Henry Sterling, and City Detectives Frank Ferris and Howard Forner.

The four Spaniards were arrested on Fifth avenue, and in Alvarez's pocket they found a check for a suitcase which they recovered at a public checking station. In the suitcase, the officers said, they found seven bottles, each carrying labels purporting the contents to be 300 grains of heroin. A city chemist announced the contents to be nothing but starch.

1,827,064 WOMEN QUALIFY TO VOTE IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—(AP.)—The final compilation of registration totals in the state, made by the Associated Press, shows that 1,827,064 women have qualified themselves to cast ballots at the coming presidential election. The interest which women are taking in the election is shown by the male registration of 2,144,888, which exceeds the feminine contingent by only 310,224.

The complete state registration total, including Berks county's 100,181 and Greene county's 18,714, shows 2,861,919 registered Republicans; 867,381 Democrats and 242,552 enrolled under the banners of other parties.

This figure is 483,841 greater than in 1927 and 747,726 above the 1926 mark. It is about 80 per cent greater than the total vote of 2,144,719 which was cast in the presidential election of 1924.

The complete figures follow:

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Republican	1,568,927	1,292,992	2,861,919
Democratic	472,942	394,439	867,381

HOOVER TO SHUN RUSSIA

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The administration of Herbert Hoover, if he is elected president, will continue the Coolidge administration's policy of refusing recognition to the Soviet republic of Russia, until it has acknowledged debts of the old czarist government, it was learned today.

The action of the General Electric Company in negotiating a $22,000,000 contract with the Soviets has led to reports that "big business" will seek the resumption of diplomatic relations between the United States and Russia in the near future. Friends of the Republican nominee, however, declared he stood irrevocably opposed to recognition until Russia established a government which would enable her people to maintain commerce with the rest of the world, and until she has acknowledged all outstanding national obligations.

Weather Conditions.

The crest of the high pressure area now extends from the upper lakes southward over the Ohio Valley states; highest barometer 30.44 inches, at Louisville. While the high covers most of the country from the Central plains to the Atlantic coast, there is considerable cloudiness in the Central plains and rain is falling at Omaha and at Concordia. There is also a cloudy area over Lake Erie and southward over Western Pennsylvania, which is producing light rain in some localities in the southern portion and snow in the northern counties.

Light to heavy frost occurred over the lake region, the Ohio Valley states, and in the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina.

The precipitation for the last 24 hours was light. It was limited to Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio and over Lake Erie.

River Conditions.

Further generous rains over the upper Allegheny basin caused a furnet rise in the river as far down as Parkers Landing. Elsewhere the rivers changed not little. Stage at Pittsburgh is 10.2 feet; Dam No. 2, 8.1, and Dam No. 6, 7.9. The dams are up.

RUM RECORD THEFT SIFTED

entirely. Connors is a North Side patrolman on night duty.

The usual procedure would have been to take the confessions from the court room and lock them up in the detectives' quarters.

MAY REVEAL THIEF

Startling information which may lead to the apprehension of the thief was revealed by Connors.

"On September 20," Connors told the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, "a good friend of mine told me those confessions had been stolen . . . And it must have been an inside job. How could anybody on the outside pick up those two papers out of a big bundle of 'em? How could anybody on the outside get into the inspector's office?"

Moran said today he hadn't seen the confession papers since the hearing in Central Police Court several months ago, but Connors contradicted him.

"Moran took them to the hearing and he left with them," Connors said. "I never had 'em. I did have the $375 marked money that we caught those guys with and I put that in the inspector's safe"—Nobody's going to make a goat out of me."

Pete said that when his friend told him of the theft he took him to Asistant District Attorneys R. T. Clunk and Andrew T. Park. As a result, the entire matter will be laid before the graft-investigating grand jury and, Pete said, he'll be glad to testify.

"This friend of mine," Pete revealed, "knows who these guys did business with, who was the go-between, and when the right time comes it'll be made known."

Moran said he doesn't know what happened to the papers after that hearing. He didn't need them, he said, when he testified before the grand jury two months later, so he didn't bother to take them from the inspector's files, where he presumed they were.

Boyd said today that he hadn't been familiar with the intimate details of the case and that, with Connors and Moran gone, no one else in the office was well acquainted with it. Boyd said he was the only member of the staff who had the combination to the safe.

GOES TO GRAND JURY

Regardless of what Walsh turns up, the entire business is going to be revealed to the grand jury, which adjourned temporarily yesterday in its investigation of John J. Verona's graft charges. District Attorney Gardner and his assistant, Park, promised that.

There appears to be much vagueness as to where the confessions were actually stolen from. The defendants' lawyer, E. A. Eckles, who told the court all about it yesterday, said the papers were stolen from a cupboard in the detectives' quarters; Moran had the impression the papers were in the inspector's safe; Eleburn suggested they were in the private desk of Moran and Connors.

The confessions, according to Moran, were by Hartz and Bengle, and Bengle's implicated the other three defendants.

The defendants weren't sentenced yesterday by Judge James H. Gray and it is understood their confession of a confession was made in the hope of easing punishment which the jury decided they deserved.

MARKET LOTTERY DUPES RAISE HOWL FOR PRIZES

The winning number in one of the Hill district lotteries failed to pay last night and so much fuss was made about it that two players and one alleged agent were arrested. Magistrate A. D. Brandon held the case over, because the police had neglected to arrest the alleged manager of the lottery.

The fuss gave several new leads for the investigation of the clearing house lottery, one angle of the Hill district graft and vice racket.

Testimony in Morals Court was to the effect that the winning number had been flashed to Pittsburgh from New York by telephone before the lottery operators had obtained it.

Minnie Rosenshine, of Wylie avenue, clutched a dollar bill in her hand after the telephone call and hastened out to find Girard Harris, Negro, of 1414 Pasture street, from whom she said she had frequently bought lottery tickets. She claims Harris issued a ticket. Then Robert Collins, a Negro, of Our way approached with the same number and a dollar. His money also was accepted. That was about 11 o'clock, closing time on the books. It proved to be the winning number based on the New York clearing house returns.

Last night Harris insisted the bets had been laid after the legal closing time and refused to pay.

Collins demanded that Joe Sprouls, of 1810 Wylie avenue, make good. Collins said that Harris was the agent of Sprouls. The latter caused the arrest of the trio.

MRS. LAUGHLIN HOSTESS AT WELFARE FUND RALLY

Before a large assemblage of her friends at her home in Beaver road, Sewickley, Mrs. Alexander Laughlin last night sponsored a meeting for the consideration of community-philanthropic needs through the Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh.

Plans were discussed for the campaign November 12 to 22 in behalf of 25 social service organizations in the Welfare Fund and the course by which the movement can be made the medium of a strong community spirit in Allegheny county.

A. K. Oliver, president of the Welfare Fund, explained that the organization had been formed to present in a straightforward manner the maintenance requirements of its member agencies so that contributors could give with full knowledge of their needs and with proper assurance of proper accounting.

It was pointed out that the Welfare Fund had been organized to offer a joint plan of campaigning available for the acceptance of all reputable agencies serving Allegheny county. The Welfare Fund urges all contributors to continue support for agencies that have not joined, but at the same time urges special encouragement by way of generous support for those that [illegible] steps toward [illegible] and businesslike [illegible] their needs.

SEEK POSITIVE CLUES IN BUTLER FIRE MURDER

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 26.—Search for the revolver with which J. Earl Jones, garage owner, is said to have killed his wife, Nellie Adams Jones, a week ago tonight before her body was incinerated in an old log house on the Patterson farm, has been fruitless. He is alleged to have told detectives he had thrown the revolver away near the scene of the fire, but a search of that vicinity has failed to reveal the weapon. The search was resumed today.

While Jones has admitted the murder, detectives say, the coroner and police have not positively established the identity of the victim. Only a few charred bones, a watch and three rings were found. Neighbors have identified the jewelry, but on account of illness, relatives of the slain woman have been unable to make official identification.

FATHER STILL HOPES

Thomas Adams, father of the victim, has held out the hope that the victim might not be his daughter. Yesterday he was told of Jones' confession. He will be asked today to identify the gruesome relics.

The coroner's inquest will not be held until after the victim's identity has been established.

Detectives today attempted to have Jones amplify his confession. He was left severely alone yesterday, following the signing of the statement, but there are numerous points which the officials want cleared up.

Jones waived a hearing on a murder charge, and his case will come before the next grand jury. Court routine was upset by the death of Judge Henninger yesterday, but it is expected a neighboring judge will come into the county to assist in straightening out matters.

SMITH PREPARES PHILADELPHIA SPEECH

BELL FUND AGAIN IN COURTS

The $200,000 proceeds from the sale of the Bell farm in Coraopolis were placed in dispute again today when James N. Jarvis, trustee in bankruptcy for John A. Bell, the former Carnegie banker, appealed to the Pennsylvania Supreme Court for a new trial.

In Common Pleas Court a jury ruled that the money should go to John A. Bell, Jr., who was given the farm by his father before the father was ruined financially. The Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., and the Colonial Trust Company, which hold judgments against young Bell, are opposing Jarvis.

REPUBLICANS GO OVER TO SMITH

Republican defections to Gov. Alfred E. Smith were announced today by Democratic headquarters. Attorney George H. Stengel, civic leader and former Republican register of wills of Allegheny, well-known in financial circles, will preside at the Democratic rally tomorrow night in the Gayety Theater, at which Gov. Smith will be heard over the air and United States Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, will speak, it was announced.

William D. Falkenstein, of McKeesport, nephew of former Mayor George J. F. Falkenstein, of that city, yesterday withdrew his support of the Republican party and, speaking in behalf of the Democratic ticket, assailed the Republican national administration for its "disgraceful neglect of the disabled veterans." Speaking at the Seventh Street Smith-for-President Club, Mr. Falkenstein derided Coolidge economy as it affected disabled veterans, citing an instance of a veteran he was unable to assist because of "autocratic dictatorship." He declared he was ordered out of Republican headquarters Tuesday by William H. Coleman, campaign chairman, because of his solicitation of aid for this disabled veteran, who had a most just claim, he said.

The staunch Democracy of Gov. Smith was praised by Robert L. Hawthorne, speaker at a Democratic rally last night in the Friendship Public School.

Democratic rallies scheduled for tonight are: Bellevue headquarters, 465 Lincoln avenue; Mt. Oliver Smith-for-President Club, 146 Brownsville road; Seventh Ward Smith-for-President Club, 6204 Penn avenue; Manchester School and Hannatown School, Brighton road, Braddock township.

A meeting at Washington School, Washington road, Mt. Lebanon, Monday night, will hear the Rev. Lawrence M. Colfeldt, prominent Presbyterian minister, of Wolfsburg, Pa.

Tongs Sign Peace Pact

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—A truce ending what was regarded as a war between the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs has been signed here by representatives of both organizations, Dr. S. S. Young, Chinese consul general, announced last night.

A series of shootings in which four Chinese were killed and a dozen others wounded in this and other cities, Dr. Young said, was not a tong war, but the result of private feuds among members of the tongs.

Tong representatives, he said, met at his office and signed a document asserting that there had been a "misunderstanding" and urging Chinese in America not to be influenced by "alarming rumors" of tong warfare. The document, Dr. Young said, pledged the tongmen to maintain "peaceful pursuit of everyone's business as before."

BEAVER MAN SHOT AS GUN FALLS ON FLOOR

BEAVER FALLS, Oct. 26.—Charles Davis, 25, West Mayfield, is in Providence Hospital in a serious condition with a gunshot wound in his abdomen. Charles Stewart, of Homewood, brother-in-law of Davis, told police that while visiting Davis he took off his coat to hang it over a chair when a revolver slipped from the coat pocket to the floor and was discharged.

TAXI COMPANY PROTESTS PLAN TO CURB PARKING

The Better Traffic Committee today is considering, at the request of Council, a protest from the Yellow Cab Company against the pending so-called "anti-cruising" ordinance regulating parking and operation of taxicabs on city streets.

The cab company pointed out that the ordinance would eliminate cab stands on streets where parking was prohibited entirely or during certain hours while ignoring the increasing number of no-parking streets and the growth of new buildings.

The company also called attention to the fact that the measure would eliminate taxicab stands at street car stopss and alleged that such a provision constituted discrimination against the cab company for the convenience of street cars.

Restrictions placed on parking during certain hours would result in curtailment of cab service at business peaks, the company declared.

A pledge was made to reduce cruising to a minimum, but the company stated that any action regarding cruising demanded the mutual co-operation of all common carriers in Pittsburgh.

The prisnciple motivating such action, according to the company's analysis, should be to fit taxicab operation in with the entire transportation and traffic system rather than curtail growth of the taxicab system through drastic regulation.

COAL COMPANY ENJOINED FROM POLLUTING STREAM

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—The Blair Coal Company, of Indiana, Pa., with mines in Donegal township, near here, has been permanently enjoined from permitting its mine water to flow into White Oak Run and the Power Hill basin. Suit was filed a year ago by Earl Scully and other residents, who claimed the streams were being polluted.

GOVERNOR CONFIDENT OF PA.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The first phase of Gov. Al Smith's "battle for the Atlantic seaboard" ended today with the Democratic nominee more confident than ever of the triumph of his cause.

The governor came into his native New York today for a brief rest before venturing out again on the conquest of the seaboard states, that mean so much to his candidacy. Tomorrow night he speaks in Philadelphia. The speech is to be preceded by a reception and parade in that Republican city, which promises to set a record for Philadelphia.

Democratic candidates for the presidency don't usually speak in Pennsylvania. They consider it a waste of time. But not so with Gov. Smith. He not only doesn't consider it a waste of time, but he believes he will carry the state 10 days hence, notwithstanding that no Democrat has ever carried it for the presidency.

Gov. Smith reached New York at midnight in a satisfied frame of mind. He was glowing from the warmth of the receptions accorded him all of yesterday through Rhode Island and Connecticut. Certainly no Democratic, and few, if any, Republican candidates for the presidency, ever received the acclaim that was given Gov. Smith in New England yesterday.

ENORMOUS CROWDS

From Boston to New York, through the Blackstone River Valley of Rhode Island and the industrial cities of Connecticut, enormous crowds greeted him at every stop, and seemed to vie with each other with the fervor of their receptions. Another thing contributory to Gov. Smith's satisfied frame of mind, and his confidence concerning the verdict a week from Tuesday, is the open indorsement he has received from Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska.

Gov. Smith has been told by his advisers that his chances of winning Nebraska's eight electoral votes have been dependent upon Norris' indorsement. He has also been told that Norris' approval means his chances in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Wisconsin are greatly enhanced. The favorable news from the West has done much to increase his confidence as he is engaging in the battle for the East.

The final week of the campaign has been pretty well mapped out so far as Gov. Smith himself is concerned. Tomorrow night he speaks in Philadelphia. He will stay in Philadelphia Saturday night and attend church Sunday morning. He probably will spend Sunday night at the country home of his national chairman, John J. Raskob, in Maryland, before proceeding into Baltimore Monday for a night speech. He will return to New York Tuesday, speak in Newark, N. J., on Wednesday night, and close the campaign with speeches in Brooklyn and New York Friday and Saturday nights, respectively.

SEVEN PLACES RAIDED

Federal prohibition agents yesterday staged seven raids, three of them in the Hill district, Glassport and Oakland also were hit.

Seven men were arrested in the raids and all except one were released on $1,000 bail each for a hearing before the United States Commissioner.

Joseph Mash, 36, of 38 Roberts street, was released on his own recognizance following a raid on his place in which the seizure of a small quantity of wine and moonshine was reported.

Morris Kart, 29, rear of 416 Kirkpatrick street; Bazilla Corovean, 43, 75 Magee street; John Walsh, 19, Frazier street, and three Glassport saloonkeepers were released on bonds following visits to their places.

PROWLER BEATS UP MAN AT GREENSBURG

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—Surprising a man whom he had found peeping into a window of his home, Anthony Bender, 23, was severely beaten by the stranger. Bender had crept up to the "peeper" and when he made his presence known the man struck Bender on the head with a club and fled.

PITTSBURGH HIKERS PLAN JAUNT SUNDAY

The Pittsburgh Hiking Club will walk from the end of the Carson street car line Sunday, beginning at 9:30 o'clock. C. Helsel will lead the group. Anyone desiring to hike is invited to join the group at the end of the car line.

MEYER GOES TO CAPITAL; FORNEY PLEA POSSIBLE

United States Attorney John D. Meyer is in Washington today to protest against the contemplated arrangement for the court rooms in the plans prepared for the new Federal building in Pittsburgh.

Before leaving for the capital last night Attorney Meyer declared that the present plans for the court rooms and some of the departmental offices do not meet with the approval of himself and other government officials in Pittsburgh.

The faults detected in the plans for the building, which will be a nine-story structure, at Grant street and Seventh avenue, will be made known to the supervising architect, Treasury Department, under whose direction the plans for the building were drafted. Attorney Meyer received a sketch of the plans several days ago.

MAY DISCUSS FORNEY

While he did not make known any reason for the trip to Washington other than to consult with the building architects, it is possible he intends to also discuss the case of Alfred W. Forney, slot machine concessionaire, for whom he recently recommended a presidential pardon from the six-month sentence Forney is now undergoing in the county jail.

Leaving for Washington a few hours after Forney appeared as a witness before the county grand jury investigation of vice conditions in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, strengthened the suspicion that the visit to Washington by Attorney Meyer has some connection with Forney's application for a pardon, and the matter will be discussed by the district attorney at the office of the attorney general.

2 DRY VIOLATORS MUST GO TO JAIL, RULES JUDGE

Stanley J. Wozniak and Mike Wozniak, of the South Side, who were government witnesses in the Federal grand jury liquor conspiracy probe in May, yesterday were sentenced by Federal Judge Nelson MacVicar to serve three and six months, respectively, in jail for violating the prohibition law.

The court denied the motion of Attorney Warren H. Van Kirk to dismiss the charges against them. It is contended they should have immunity because of their appearance before the grand jury. The court in ruling against the motion held that the defendants were not entitled to the immunity as their pleas of guilty had been entered prior to their testimony before the grand jury.

Joseph A. Harenski, of Penn avenue, was sentenced three months to jail when he pleaded guilty of violating the prohibition law. Other offenders under the prohibition law were fined as follows: Pete Nystani, $300; Joseph Jiova, $200; Charles Tote, $200; Joseph Kaplan, $50, and Bennie Klee, $500.

WARN AGAIN ON VOTE FRAUDS

The second warning to persons who might violate the election laws was issued yesterday by the Allegheny County Election Association. The first warning was issued a few days ago by the Allegheny County Bar Association.

The election association asks all who are interested in a clean ballot to report their suspicions, making careful note of time and circumstances in connection with the alleged violation.

The warning was issued at a meeting of the association at which time a report of the year's work was made by Grant Curry, president.

Price is the only thing Richman's Clothes have in common with other clothes made to sell at $22.50. Aside from this, they are in a class of their own. The world's largest direct-from-factory sales and production command the artistry and skill of the best designers and manufacturing experts in the country. The cash purchase of over 4,000,000 yards of cloth, yearly, procures the finest weaves of mills noted for the quality of their fabrics. And Richman workers, who own stock in this company valued at more than $6,000,000, are famed far and wide for their efficiency and conscientious workmanship. That's why the superiority of Richman's Clothes is so readily apparent to men who appreciate authentic style, rich materials and fine tailoring.

Every Garment Made in the Richman Factories and Sold Direct to You Without a Middleman's Profit—One Standard Price—$22.50 for Any Suit, Topcoat, Winter Overcoat, or Tuxedo Suit You Choose From Our Immense Stock.

Suits

Single and double-breasted suits with the style smartness only master designers could create—every good style that is new, and nothing that is not new—fabrics woven of virgin wool yarns on the looms of mills whose labels are seldom found in clothes at less than $50—silk decorated worsteds and cassimeres, rugged double-twist weaves, and sturdy cheviots in every fashionable pattern and shade. Sizes and proportions to fit men of any build or posture.

Topcoats

Smart box and swagger Raglan models in pure wool fabrics of luxurious warmth and splendid wearing qualities—you are not likely to find better looking, more dependable topcoats at any price. All fabrics are double shrunk and weather-proofed for rainy days—each coat lined with genuine Skinner satin and carefully tailored in our own shops. All sizes and proportions in the widest possible choice of new patterns, shades and mixtures.

The Richman Pittsburgh Store

Last May our Pittsburgh business outgrew our store and we had to open Richman's Annex and double our selling facilities.

This fall we have opened an addition of 200,000 feet to our big Cleveland factory to keep production in step with constantly growing sales through our 34 stores.

We can offer no stronger proof that Richman's Clothes give men incomparable value and satisfaction.

Since every successful business has its imitators, you can match the price anywhere—but you can buy Richman quality at $22.50 only in the Richman store. Look for the big Richman sign above the door, before you enter, to make sure of getting all the value your money can buy.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

FAITH BANISHED THROAT ILL, HE TESTIFIES

J. H. Miller, 56, of 68 Dilworth street, no longer has to have a tube in his throat through which he takes his food, divine healing having made him well again, he said last night in Glory Barn, Carson street, where he spoke with Evangelist John W. Sproul.

Through attending a service at the McKeesport Glory Barn and through having heard Sproul speak over the radio, Miller said he was given the faith that brought about his cure. He swallowed lye when a child and his throat was swollen continually.

Sproul spoke on "The Touch of Jesus" last night.

He said in part:

"The ruler sought Jesus to heal his daughter, but before Jesus came the daughter died. But His touch brought back life to the lifeless form. Later Lazarus died while Jesus, the Great Physician, mysteriously tarried, but when he came to the entrance of the grave and cried 'Lazarus, come forth,' the dead man arose from the dead.

"So the touch of Jesus brings new life to the one who is dead in trespass and sin. His healing touch is as efficacious today as when He ministered to the afflicted in Galilee. Get in touch with Jesus and He will cleanse your sins and cure your sickness."

HALLOWEEN PARTIES IN BOTH COUNTY PARKS

A barn dance and masquerade will be held in the county's North and South parks Halloween night, Park Director Paul B. Riis, in making this announcement, said the Rose grove in North park and the Mill grove, South park, will be given over to mummers during the evening.

Two well-known orchestras will furnish dance music. Barns on the Rose and Hill groves have been remodeled and ample room is afforded for as many revelers as will visit the recreation centers.

Director Riis said that the dance and masquerade party would be a permanent event in the parks on Halloween.

HOWARD

"How can you afford to sell them for $22.50" a clothing salesman for a prominent department store asked us

CLOTHES

Howard's Blue Whitney Overcoat is made from genuine 33-ounce Metcalf Mills Whitney cloth. Tube model, double-breasted, peak lapels.

A distinguished-looking, but hard-to-fit young man walked into one of Howard's eastern stores, looked at styles and fabrics, studied price tags, and finally caught the eye of the busy manager. "Something I can do for you, sir?" the manager asked. "Yes, indeed, smiled the stranger; "see if you can fit me in this Suit and Overcoat." The tailor was called and measurements taken. When the young man came back and tried on the clothes, he was—to put it mildly—astonished. "And you don't charge for alterations?" he exclaimed. Then he said: "Now, I'm a salesman in the men's department of Blank's (a famous store), and I must admit that I don't understand how you fellows can put up such wonderful clothes for the price. Why, we'd get $45 for any one of these garments, and alterations extra."

You have no idea of the tremendous variety and selection of Howard Clothes until you walk into a Howard store and begin to look at garments. The number of patterns, colors, weaves and styles is bewildering. But a few minutes' search will find you precisely the Suit, Coat or Tuxedo you need. This is another of the popular Howard Fall models. The Stanford has that air of conservatism found only in expensive clothes. But it's $22.50 here.

Our Daily Short Story

HEREDITY

By Louise Peple Armstrong

"ALL our hopes and ambitions have centered in Ralph," said the old gentleman, twisting his gray mustache, tapping a slender, custom-made shoe against the red carpet of the hotel lounge.

His wife, tall, angular and rather formidable in the stoic dignity of her silence, sat across the room, holding a suede handbag with a silver clasp against the folds of the sealskin coat she wore. Her attitude seemed hostile, as though she were shielding herself from any open discussion of intimate family affairs with a stranger.

Dolly Winston felt sorry for the old gentleman, in spite of his assured, coldly accusing manner. She still held between her fingers the slip of yellow paper Tom Winston's stenographer had given her a few moments ago when she called at the office.

"This telegram looks personal and important," the girl had said.

Must see you immediately concerning my grandson. My wife and I will arrive noon and be at Grayland Hotel.

Robert W. Deeming.

She had rushed over to the Grayland, been shown into the lounge, and shortly thereafter had found herself confronted by two aristocratic, elderly people who seemed anxious and ill at ease.

"It is your husband we wished to see, Mrs. Winston," said old Mr. Deeming.

"Tom's out of town," Dolly explained to him. "But won't I do? I know Ralph Deeming, your grandson, very well—know all about his coming here to visit his mother, who is now Mrs. George Davison. In fact, I know about her having given him up to you when he was a baby, after his father died and she was left alone—and about her having promised never to try to see him again."

"Really!" exclaimed old Mrs. Deeming, sitting up stiffer than ever.

"I might as well tell you," added Dolly Winston, not in the least abashed by Mrs. Deeming's glance of censure, "I've been asking Ralph Deeming down as our guest, so he might see his mother. But that was before George Davison was told about his coming. Minna, Ralph's mother, had an idea her husband might object to her seeing her son. He—well, he resented your attitude toward Minna," Dolly ended, her wide blue eyes frankly turned to old Mr. Deeming.

"You seem very well acquainted with—Mrs. Davison," said the old man drily. "And it's not surprising that a young woman of your type should have her sympathies aroused by Mrs. Davison's version of her story. I really believe it would be better to abide by my original plan, and see your husband, or some other lawyer here. Not that I don't appreciate the interest you have taken, through kind-heartedness," he added. "To show you I'm sincere in my thanks I'll tell you my reason for coming. You might let Mrs. Davison know—and it might have weight with her—if she still cares for the welfare of her son. If she will abide by our agreement with her, not to see our boy, nor attempt to communicate with him or appeal to

HEREDITY

By Louise Peple Armstrong

him in any way, I'm prepared to make a generous settlement on her. But if she persists in seeing him, I'll be obliged to pursue the course I followed with Ralph's father. Have I made it plain?"

"You mean," asked Dolly, a frightened expression coming into her eyes, "that you'd cast Ralph off—just as you did when your son married Minna, because she happened to be in the chorus? You'd be that hard now? I had imagined the years would have changed you—most elderly people have a more tolerant view of life. Ralph's in his senior year at college. You've brought him up in luxury, denied him nothing in a material way. It would be terribly hard for him to be penniless now!"

Old Mr. Deeming nodded, and Dolly saw the light of triumph flash into his wife's steel-gray eyes. "That's just what I'm certain of," Mr. Deeming said. "Glad to see you've such keen perception, Mrs.—eh—Mrs. Winston. I hope your friend, Minna Davison, has as much. She spoiled my son's career and he died a pauper, taking care of her. But he left a son to carry on our name and we've taken him into our home and reared him as our own. He's very like our boy was!" And there was pride in his last words.

"I think Ralph's remarkably like his mother," Dolly said. "You should see them together—they're strikingly alike!"

"He's a French," snapped the old woman, "like my people! Though he has certain of the Deeming characteristics," she added with a charitable glance at her husband. "I don't like to appear snobbish, Mrs. Winston, but when you are as old as I am, you'll realize that it takes generations to make the background of a good family, a strong heredity! That's what the Frenches and the Deemings have bequeathed to Ralph's son. But as to his mother, and her people, what does anyone know of them? A nobody from the chorus!"

"But Minna's really charming," interrupted Dolly. "And if you'll excuse my saying so, I think you put too much emphasis upon heredity, and too little upon human kindliness—and loyalty!"

"Loyalty?" cried Mrs. Deeming, now thoroughly aroused. "How can you mention loyalty to us? Are we not the victims of the basest disloyalty? First in our son—now in Ralph?"

"No," replied Dolly, her own voice sharpening. "I think they both have been sacrificed upon the altars of your bitter family pride. And I really don't think you're nice people—either of you!"

She arose and drew her plain, dark-blue cloth coat about her shoulders. A sternness, which was as pitying as it was accusing, transfigured her youthful face into maturity. "I said a moment ago that it would be tragic for Ralph to be cut off penniless," she said. "But I'll take that back. It's better for him to be cut off—from pride and snobbery for they contaminate in an elusive way. But don't make the mistake of offering his mother any of your musty family money, else Ralph will never remember you with an atom of kindliness in his heart, and it's not well for a young man to feel bitter against any of his kin. Bitterness warps the soul, as it has warped yours! Letting your son die in poverty—turning your daughter-in-law away from your doors, tearing her baby out of her arms! What memories you'll have when you both come to die!"

She turned to the door, her head up, a tightening in her throat.

"Come back," said a husky voice behind her. Her heart leaped, for it was old Mr. Deeming. She had known he was essentially kind—it had been his cold, remorseless wife she had shrunk from. "Come back, you strange girl!"

She turned and came back to him. He had arisen, held out both hands and impulsively Dolly Winston clasped them.

"My son—Ralph," he muttered, "dying away from us—in poverty! I'll never turn against his boy! You've opened my eyes, my dear!"

"Let me drive you out to my home," said Dolly. "I'll phone Minna, tell her you're here. I'm sure she and Ralph will come over."

Old Mr. Deeming glanced apprehensively at his wife. She nodded frigidly and arose. "You are an amiable girl," she said. "And you are indeed a true friend of Minna Davison!" And Dolly thought she heard a strange crackling in her tone, like the breaking ice at the beginning of a thaw. But her manner was just as unbending as she swept down the stairway and out through the hotel doors.

Half an hour later they sat about the fire in Dolly Winston's living-room—a strange company. The elder Deemings, Ralph and Ralph's handsome mother.

"I'm happy to know all's well," said Minna Davison in her soft modulated voice. She smiled into the dark eyes of her tall son, then turned to his grandparents.

What if she had sung in the chorus, Dolly thought, how wonderfully she carried herself! She was, as Tom had said, a charming woman who had faced life, but had managed to hold herself aloof from all its sordidness. "To have my son back—after all the long years." Something glistened in her deep brown eyes. "How proud I am that he is such a splendid, wonderful boy!"

Then for the first time she made a gesture of friendly affection, put out her hand and touched that of old Mrs. Deeming.

Dolly saw the old lady stiffen, but a moment later she saw her turn her palm up and clasp the hands of Ralph Deeming's mother.

"He's a French, though," old Mrs. Deeming, persisted stubbornly. "His resemblance to Michael French, my grandfather, is marked! How thankful I am that he has such an excellent heritage!"

Dolly looked anxiously at Minna, and was relieved to see the smile of tolerant understanding in her eyes.

START NOW AND WIN $1,000 PRIZE IN ZAIN AD TEST

FIFTH PERIOD UNDER WAY; CHANCE FOR $100 AWARD

The $15,000 Zain advertisement writing test has entered the fifth of the seven periods of one week each into which it has been divided. For the best ads submitted by amateur writers during the fifth period, which expires at midnight next Wednesday, a prize of $100 in cash and more than 200 other prizes will be given by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. In addition a number of special prizes will be given by the firms about which the ads are written. For the best ad submitted during the entire course of the test a grand prize of $1,000 will be awarded.

Now let us assume that until this moment you had never heard of the Zain Ad-Test. You may suppose that because it is well along you have little chance of winning a prize. Disabuse your mind of that notion. OPPORTUNITY looms big before you. Seize it.

STILL HAVE CHANCE

You have as good a chance as anyone else to win the $1,000 prize or any of the other prizes. For the competition is restricted to persons inexperienced in ad-writing. Professionals and newspaper employes are barred.

A good idea is all you need, and it may be expressed in a short statement, a letter, a jingle or a slogan. The rules will be found on this page.

The ads must be written about 39 local business concerns, a list of which, with their products or service, will also be found elsewhere on this page. To be eligible for the grand prize of $1,000 it is necessary to write at least one ad about each of the 39 some time during the campaign.

The better you are acquainted with the firms and the things they sell, the more convincing and effective will be your ads. Your best plan to get material is to visit the stores, ask questions, read their advertisements, sample their wares.

GAS ADS TIMELY

The Peoples Natural Gas Company is calling attention at present to the service it renders in heating houses, a timely subject now that cold weather is at hand. It should be easy to advertise natural gas, because its superiority over other fuels is so obvious. Inquire about the Pennsylvania gas furnace and the B-line gas boilers, both of which are handled by the Peoples Natural Gas Company.

Before writing your ad about the Roosevelt Hotel, why not pay it a visit and have a meal in its dining room? You will get good food, well cooked, promptly and carefully served. You will find many things that you like on the menu, from which to choose, and the prices will be reasonable. If you have to stay downtown over night, get a room at the Roosevelt.

SEE OPTICAL DISPLAY

A multitude of interesting things to say about the Lewin-Neiman Company will come to you when you visit the store at 305 Smithfield street. "Pittsburgh's headquarters for coats." Lewin-Neiman's specialize in women's, misses' and children's apparel, and, as is so often the case with specialists, excel in their lines.

The B. K. Elliott Company, 126 Sixth street, handles all kinds of optical goods, and drawing instruments and painting outfits as well. Elliott's eyeglasses, and particularly their Uni-Vis bifocals, deserve your attention. Bifocals are a double-vision lens—a lens with a reading segment fused into the lower portion, so that when you read you see the print through the lower part or reading segment, and when you see a play you view the actors through the upper, or distant portion.

Write each ad on a separate sheet of paper, which should be at least as large as a postal card, and preferably commercial letter size. Put your name and address on the back of each sheet, and also on the flap of the envelope in which you mail them. SEND THE ADS TO THE ZAIN AD-WRITING TEST, CARE OF THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH, PITTSBURGH, PA.

CLUB CANCELS INVITATION TO WIFE OF GOV. SMITH

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—The Democratic National Committee announced today that an invitation accepted by Mrs. Alfred E. Smith to be a guest of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs at luncheon today had been withdrawn by Mrs. Cora B. Thomas, president of the federation.

Mrs. Thomas said the invitation accepted by Mrs. Smith was that extended by the Women's Democratic Club of New York for a luncheon today at the Astor. The National Democratic Committee, however, declared the luncheon of the Women's Democratic Club would be tomorrow at the Hotel Commodore. Mrs. Thomas added:

"It has been the custom of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs, Inc., a nonpartisan organization, for the past two years to invite the wife of the Mayor of the city, the wife of the Governor of the state, the wife of the President of the United States, to each convention, but none of these three will be able to accept the invitation on October 26."

The federation includes 399 clubs of more than 150,000 members. Mrs. Thomas, who had been an enrolled Republican, announced several weeks ago that she intended to support Gov. Smith.

CRASH KILLS SCHOOL PRINCIPAL, 5 PUPILS

FORSYTHE, Mont., Oct. 26.—(AP.)—Mrs. Ralph Abbott, 50, assistant principal at the Howard High School, 10 miles west of Forsythe, and five school children, were killed and three others injured on their way home from school yesterday, when Mrs. Abbott's car, in which they were riding, was struck by a freight train at the Northern Pacific crossing at Howard.

RELIGION IN CAMPAIGN RAPPED

Condemnation of religious intolerance, regardless of sect, and its introduction into a political campaign, was uttered by Joseph Scott, of Los Angeles, lecturer at the University of California and prominent mmeber of the Knights of Columbus, who seconded the nomination of Herbert Hoover at Kansas City, speaking last night at a mass meeting in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel. About 1,000 persons, at least one-half of them women, attended.

"God help America if any President, Republican or Democrat, has to march into the White House between the fanatical forces of religious intolerance," he declared.

Mr. Scott asserted, "Nobody can deny that there is a mass of scandalous and libelous literature being circulated throughout the country," and praised the forbearance of the Catholic church. "Personally, it may not be inopportune for us Republicans to re-echo the sentiments and hopes that the religious issue will not be made the catspaw of unscrupulous politicians," he said. He cited a semi-official pronunciamento of the Vatican, proclaiming the silence and impartiality of the church on the presidential contest, and pointing to the "absolutely correct declarations in the religious matter" of "the two eminent men who are contending" for the office. Mr. Scott also praised the declarations of the attitude of both candidates on the religious question.

BARONE FOUNDS SCHOLARSHIP

The establishment of two scholarships, available to Italian boys attending the University of Pittsburgh or the Carnegie Institute of Technology, was announced last night at a testimonial dinner to Dr. Charles J. Barone, national president of the Alpha Phi Delta fraternity. The scholarships have been established by Dr. Barone in honor of his mother.

One of the scholarships provides a year's study at some Italian university for the Italian boy that is graduated with the highest honors from either of the local universities and the second provides a year's tuition at some American university to the boy that is graduated with the second highest honors.

The dinner, held in the University Club, was tendered Dr. Barone by fellow members of the Alpha Phi Delta fraternity.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away go indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

ELK COUNTY FIRST IN PA. POLL TO GO FOR SMITH

THREE OTHER COUNTIES GO TO HOOVER

The first county in Pennsylvania favoring Gov. Alfred E. Smith to report in the straw vote canvass of the state by The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph thus far is Elk county, completing its quota in the poll. Three other counties on the face of complete returns — Montgomery, Franklin and Clinton—are destined for the Hoover column.

The Elk county poll shows that while President Coolidge captured 72 per cent of the total vote in that county in 1924, Smith will win 51 per cent of the total vote this year. Smith will win twice as many new voters as Hoover, nearly ten times as many party defections as Hoover and will win nearly 75 per cent of the LaFollette vote.

In the other three counties the Republican strength will increase, according to indications. In Montgomery county Coolidge received 80 per cent of the total vote and Hoover will win 85 per cent this year. In Franklin county Coolidge captured 59 per cent and Hoover wins 87 per cent of the straw vote. In Clinton county Coolidge received 69 per cent of the total vote and Hoover wins 80 per cent of the straw vote.

In Franklin and Clinton counties Hoover profits by party defections by a ratio of nearly 21to-1, but in Montgomery county Smith is the winner on the same ratio. The LaFollette vote in Montgomery and Clinton is preponderantly in favor of Smith, while in Franklin county the majority of the LaFollette vote goes to Hoover.

The women vote, except in Elk county where there is a tie, is in favor of Hoover on a ratio of 2-to-1 or better.

The Pennsylvania poll, conducted in connection with the canvass of the United States by the Hearst papers, reaches a total of 104,920 ballots with the latest returns, with Hoover leading by 32,090.

The present standing is: Hoover 68,540, including 55,651 men and 12,889 women; Smith 36,440, including 28,300 men and 8,150 women. This vote in 1924 was divided as follows: Coolidge 72,524, including 58,621 men and 13,903 women; Davis 11,221, including 9,473 men and 1,748 women; LaFollette 6,160; not voting 15,085.

Kline Asks Flag Display for Navy Day

Mayor Charles H. Kline today requested Pittsburgh residents to join other citizens of the United States in observing next Saturday as "Naval Day" and in decorating homes and buildings with the Stars and Stripes.

Observance of "Navy Day" has the hearty indorsement of President Coolidge and members of his cabinet, Kline stated.

Saturday was selected because it is the anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt who was credited by the Navy League of America as a vital factor in developing the nation's maritime prestige.

HIS DAD A CROSSPATCH

Faulty digestion may kill children's love

The father whose stomach is constantly at war with itself often scolds and punishes his children undeservedly. If he knew how bitterly they remember his abuse he would change his disposition by giving attention to his digestion.

If the father of your children is a victim of stomach trouble, urge him to take, before each meal, a tablespoonful of Triner's Bitter Wine, the pleasant tonic laxative made of California wine, cascara and medicinal herbs. Then mark the change in him—the quick return of his natural good humor and appetite. Potatoes and other starchy foods yield quickly to this different digestant. At all druggists—75c and $1.25.

HOSPITAL'S CAMPAIGN FOR $5,000,000 OPENS TONIGHT

The $5,000,000 appeal for Allegheny General Hospital's new 15-story building opens tonight at 6:30 o'clock with a dinner in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel. More than 800 workers will attend, it was said at campaign headquarters.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational Church, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the principal speaker. Dr. Maitland Alexander, president of the hospital and general chairman of the appeal, will preside. Other speakers on the program will be Dr. S. S. Goldwater, nationally-known hospital consultant, and Dr. Otto C. Gaub, head of the surgical staff at Allegheny General Hospital.

HIT-RUN DRIVER'S CAR BREAKS VICTIM'S LEG

ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 26.—While filling an automobile tank with gasoline on the Colona-Aliquippa road, Daniel Vogt, 29, of Monaca, was struck by another car, the driver of which did not stop, and received a broken leg. He was brought to the hospital here.

CARNEGIE GETS P. R. R. RAIL CONTRACT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—The Pennsylvania Railroad today announced the placing of orders for 159,600 tons of steel rails out of the 260,000 tons authorized by the directors for 1929. The Carnegie Steel Company received an order for 46,900 tons; the Illinois Steel Company, 31,300; Bethlehem Steel Company, 71,900 and Inland Steel Company, 9,500.

The Pennsylvania reserved the right to increase up to 70 per cent of any of the orders prior to October 1, 1929.

While the company did not give the price to be paid for the rails, it is said it will require an expenditure of about $10,800,000 for the rails, fasteners, tie bolts, spikes, etc.

CONVICT TO RETURN TO FACE TRIAL

Charles Berger, of Pittsburgh, one of the 166 men indicted in the federal grand jury rum conspiracy probe, who is serving a 20-month sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary, will be brought here for trial when the first of the conspiracy cases start.

Federal Judge Nelson McVicar today signed a writ directing the warden at Atlanta to bring Berger into court November 13. Berger was convicted prior to being indicted in the June indictment.

$1,544,347 PAID BLAST VICTIMS, TWO NEW SUITS

With the filing of three damage suits against the Riter-Conley Company as a result of the blast which destroyed the gas tank of the Equitable Gas Company, North Side, last November, it has been revealed that the gas company has established a record in settlement of claims growing out of the blast. Jessie Mae Michaels and Wilma R. Bellan, of the North Side, each has asked $50,000 damages for the deaths of their husbands. One of the suits overlapped being directed against both the Riter-Conley Company and the gas company.

The gas company it was stated had paid out $1,544,347 in settlement of 3,828 claims arising from the blast. About 5,000 claims were filed. Personal injury claims numbering 414 were settled by payment of $124,781. Claims comoining personal injury and property damage filed by 287 claimants were settled for $232,680. The payment of $1,186,948 settled 2,927 property claims and 17 fatality claimants settled for $78,984. Four suits were filed for damages.

ELECTRIC CONTRACTORS GRANTED CITY CHARTER

Judge James R. Macfarlane has signed a decree granting a charter to the Electrical Contractors Association of Pittsburgh. The chief aim of the organization is to foster trade among electrical contractors and promote the general welfare of the electrical industry. The directors for the first year include G. L. Craig, E. B. Sargant, Dormont; Harry Carter, Allisosn Park; R. M. Morganstern, J. V. Burke and W. H. Ochiltree, Pittsburgh, and William C. Smythe, McKees Rocks.

HOLD HIT-RUN DRIVER WHO STRUCK MINISTER

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Oct. 26.—As the result of an accident on the Brodhead road, near here, in which the Rev. Paul McConnell and his son, Robert, of Hookstown, were hurt, C. R. Lance, of New Sheffield, is held in the Beaver County Jail on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, and failure to stop and render assistance. The minister's automobile was overturned.

SNOW FOLLOWS RAIN AND WIND IN FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 26.—First snow of the season fell here on the heels of heavy rain and storm which caused $1,000 damage by breaking skylights and causing other damage at the plant of the Venango Manufacturing Company. The same plant suffered $25,000 damage in the ice gorge several years ago.

FARRELL NEGRO GUILTY IN SLUGGING DEATH

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 26.—Mercer County's two murder trials, which featured the opening of the October term of court, ended with an acquittal for Philip Restitute, of Farrell, and a voluntary manslaughter verdict for William Biddings, Farrell Negro.

Restituto was charged with having shot Paul Polenol to death while Biddings was charged with having killed Pete Smith with a pump handle. The jury recommended mercy for Biddings.

Restituto, who killed Polenol and Sam Mareno will appeal far a new trial in the Mareno case as he was found guilty last June.

News From Photoplay Center Combined With Bits About Stage

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS DECIDES HE WILL DIRECT BUT NOT ACT AFTER PRESENT

By REGINA CREWE.

(Copyright, 1928, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.

FOLLOWING the production of "The Iron Mask," Douglas Fairbanks' sequel to his famous "The Three Musketeers," the star is planning his career in a manner which may result in his exit from the cinema world as an actor. "Doug" will continue in pictures as a producer of pictures to be released through United Artists, and the present proposed schedule calls for three photodramas each year from the Fairbanks unit. At this time, however, "Doug" is declared as determined not to act in another picture, unless he can secure a really crackerjack story in which he may appear opposite Mary Pickford.

Naturally enough, the father's plans will affect the son's future. One of the pictures now set for production by the Fairbanks company will star Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Up to now Douglas, Jr., has relied upon his own efforts to win movie fame and has done a very satisfactory job without his dad's aid. Perhaps now that he has shown his worth as an actor, Douglas, Sr., believes it time to help the boy up the ladder to fill his shoes.

Noted Vocalist To Do Picture

A STORY has been prepared by Garret Lloyd which will be used as a screen vehicle for Mme. Schumann-Heink, who has won and held an enviable position in the musical world. The picture is to bear the United Artists' brand, and will be filmed as soon as the celebrated diva can arrange her affairs so that the picture may be fitted in. It is a mother story, which also deals with her activities during the war. Of course the picture will be synchronized to sound and dialog, which will present the opportunity for song lovers to hear the great opera singer's voice.

Neil Hamilton Colleen's Lead

AFTER looking over the field of Hollywood leading men, John McCormick has signed Neil Hamilton to appear opposite Mrs. McCormick in her next picture. Just in case you don't recognize the star by that name, Mrs. McCormick is Colleen Moore. The title of the film is to be "That's a Bad Girl," and, although Colleen is still working every day on her present photoplay, "Synthetic Sin," they are selecting the cast for the new picture over on First National's lot.

Neil Hamilton is in great demand these days, following his characterization in "The Patriot," Emil Jannings' great picture. You'll also recall Neil in "Beau Geste," "Hot Heels," "The Joy Girl" and dozens of other good photoplays. The story of "That's a Bad Girl" was written by Carey Wilson and tells the adventures of a very modern miss.

Cline to Direct Denny Picture

DIRECTOR EDDIE CLINE, who has been in the movies ever since the days of the Keystone caps, of which he was one, has been signed to direct Reginald Denny's new film, "Lucky in Love," which goes into production within a day or two. This will be the last Reggy will make before his marriage to "Bubbles" Steifel. Reggy gets his final divorce decree on Armistice Day, which is fair enough. Director Cline has just finished making a picture for Beth Brown's story, "Applause," with Sally O'Neil as star. They've discarded what seems like a dandy title and will call the picture "Broadway Fever."

Marion Davies Honored Abroad

MARION DAVIES is bringing new honors and dignities to Hollywood in the form of decorations which were bestowed upon her during the European vacation from which she has just returned. Among them are the distinguished French decoration of Officer of the Academy and the Medal of Homage, with which Spain has proved its appreciation of her talents. It seems that the busy star has been working hard even during her rest time. For she has resumed the course of vocal training which she undertook while in stage musical comedy in preparation for her stellar role in "The Five O'clock Girl." This will be her first sound picture, to be followed, of course, by many others utilizing the new medium.

TUBE EXTREMES :-: GUS IS TEACHER :-: FOR FORTUNE

Anita Page's voice goes through these tubes. The large one broadcast her voice over the radio. The small one adjusts her voice in the movietone.

Gus Edwards, song writer and singer, gives Joan Crawford, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player, a singing lesson preliminary to a talking picture test.

Jean Arthur, new featured screen player, illustrates the horoscope necklace being worn by lasses of the film colony who have muscular shoulders.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade-Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

ABIE COMEDY FAREWELL BOOKED

In the Pitt, opening next Monday evening, Anne Nichols' famous comedy, "Abie's Irish Rose," will hold forth for a farewell Pittsburgh engagement. Patricia Quinn, seen here previously, plays the title role. The usual Thursday and Saturday matinees will be given.

The return engagement of "The Nineteenth Hole," a domestic comedy by and with Frank Craven, begins Monday evening in the Nixon. "The Nineteenth Hole," now being played for the second year by Mr. Craven, has a golfing angle and it has been highly praised by leading "pro" and amateur golfers.

Jane Cowl, who has not been seen in this city since her appearance in "Romeo and Juliet" four years ago, comes to the Alvin next week. This season Miss Cowl is appearing in what is classed as a "romantic fantasy" called "The Jealous Moon," said to be by far the most beautiful and elaborate in which she has ever appeared. Matinees will be Wednesday and Saturday.

In the Keith-Albee vaudeville in the Davis next week Gaudsmith Brothers and Company will offer their original comedy, "Get Up." On the screen will be Conrad Nagel and Renee Adoree in "The Michigan Kid."

Two Homestead Prisoners Mysteriously Make Escape

MISSING AS CELL DOOR IS OPENED

Two prisoners made a mysterious escape from the Homestead Police Station yesterday. Joseph Sears, 22, and Jerome Marano, 21, arrested in connection with auto thefts, were locked in cell No. 7. Yesterday morning they were missing, and the cell door was open.

Police say they had either picked the lock or sprung it, to gain access to the cell room. From the cell room one door leads to the fire engine house and the other to the court room. Whether they left by way of the engine house or court room has not been determined.

Hit Again

FLORENCE BOGUCKAG

Today Florence Boguckag, 8, 1513 Sarah street, lying in South Side Hospital with a fractured skull, for the second time within a year suffers injuries received when she was struck by an automobile. This time she was hit while crossing Fifteenth street, near Carson, the same neighborhood as that of her accident of a year ago.

PLANS REVISED FOR CRAFTON CROSSINGS

Revised plans for the elimination of grade crossings over the Pennsylvania Railroad at Dinsmore avenue and Emily street, Crafton, are being considered by Pennsylvania railroad engineers. The plans call for an underground roadway at White avenue.

Plans formerly submitted by the railroad were for an underground passage at the same point but included a sharp turn into Linwood avenue which it was declared would be a death trap for motorists. Revised plans call for a long curve from the tunnel to the intersection of Dinsmore avenue and Belvedere street.

Various plans for overhead crossings have been declared too costly by railroad engineers. They estimate the cost of an overhead crossing at $672,000 compared with $422,000 for the subway.

"TAKES UP" FLYING

RALPH MILLER

Ralph Miller, literary motorcycle policeman of Dormont, has won himself a course in aviation by writing a 200-word prize-winning essay on the "Future of Aviation." The contest was sponsored by the South Hills Harris Theater for more than 300 contestants.

FOSTER, DENIED HALL TO SPEAK ON HILL

Barred from use of the North Side Carnegie Music Hall, William Z. Foster, presidential candidate of the Workers Party (Communist), will speak at a meeting Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Labor Lyceum, 35 Miller street, according to announcement by representatives of District 5 of the party with headquarters at 805 James street, North Side.

Other speakers at the Labor Lyceum meeting will be Nat Caplan, of New York, a member of the National Committee of the Young Workers (Communist) League, and Mrs. Parthenia Tills, of the American Negro Labor Congress.

The Foster meeting was denied use of the Carnegie Music Hall by Clifford B. Connelley, librarian. An appeal was taken to City Council and that body upheld Connelley.

On Crutches, Hears Cases

J. P. KEARCHER

Alderman John P. Kearcher, 79 South Eighteenth street, injured in an auto accident July 22 in Library road, has returned to his duties on crutches. In the same accident, his wife and twin children were hurt.

GRIDDERS TO DEFY BLUE LAW

Despite interference of police last Sunday, Lawrenceville football teams are going ahead with their schedule for this Sunday in hopes that the arranged games may pass unheeded. Two games were stopped in the Lawrenceville district last Sunday, one at Lawrence Park and the other at Sullivan Field.

The strong Lawrenceville Mohawks are paying no attention to the order barring Sunday sports and will meet the Tarentum eleven at Sullivan Field Sunday afternoon. The outcome of this game is watched with great interest, as many of the Mohawk players or club members have strong political friends.

Another interesting battle carded for Sunday will be the Soho Oakleaf-Greenfield scrimmage at Born Field, Greenfield. Last Sunday the Soho team played unmolested at Moultrie Field, while other games in the Hill district, East End and Lawrenceville were stopped.

The East Liberty-Paulson Club is also scheduled to play Sunday afternoon on the Washington Boulevard grounds.

CAST VOTE FOR LINCOLN, WILL CHEER FOR HOOVER

A man who voted for Abraham Lincoln, 68 years ago, will cheer for Herbert Hoover at tonight's Republican rally in Bellevue High School auditorium.

He is A. M. Carline, 89, Civil War veteran, of 15 North Fremont street, Bellevue. He is believed the only North Boroughs resident remaining who voted for the Emancipator for president. He served four years in the Civil War as a member of Company H, Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry.

"I voted for Lincoln and I will vote for Hoover," says Mr. Carline briefly. He was making ready at his home today to attend tonight's rally.

Mr. Carline takes pride in recalling seeing and hearing Lincoln when he addressed a Pittsburgh crowd from the balcony of the old Monongahela House, Smithfield and Water streets.

United States Senator David A. Reed, who is to make the principal address at tonight's gathering, returned to Pittsburgh this morning from the eastern part of the state, where he made campaign addresses at Reading, Bethlehem and Philadelphia.

A band, with red fire, will traverse the North Boroughs preceding the meeting, which is scheduled to open at 8 p. m.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD PLANS INGATHERING

The annual ingathering of the Allegheny branch of the Needlework Guild will be held Tuesday, November 13, at the First Presbyterian Church, Arch street.

WOMEN'S CIVIC CLUB ACTIVE

The choral branch of the Beechview Women's Civic Club will hold a meeting in the clubhouse Tuesday night. Mrs. Ross Altwater will direct the class and Miss Eugenia Bertoni will be the accompanist.

The board of directors of the club will hold their regular monthly meeting at the clubhouse Friday, November 2. Mrs. Joseph Williams, president, will preside.

A luncheon will be held by the club at the Food Craft Shop, Fifth avenue, Saturday afternoon, November 3.

HURT BY GLASS BRINGS SUIT

Injured by a piece of glass which fell from a building in Fifth avenue near Wylie avenue, Mrs. Catherine E. Lynch, 3640 Berner avenue, North Side, has brought suit against the Standard Plate Glass Company for $50,000 damages. It is averred in the bill of complaint that the glass in question caused concussion of the brain and otherwise hurt her. Mrs. Lynch claims that her nerves have been shocked by reason of the mishap.

FURNACE BLAST KILLS WORKER

Louis Zitzman, 47, of 119 Phillips street, was fatally burned in an explosion of an open hearth furnace at the South Side plant of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation yesterday, according to a report to the coroner. He died several hours later in South Side Hospital.

NUDE MARY, IN A BLANKET, GOES RIGHT ON TO JAIL

Mary Wascak, 33, of Ridge avenue, North Braddock, arrested on a misdemeanor charge preferred by hr husband, Nick, placed Constable John Pavlicko f Justice of the Peace M. T. Gorsam's office in a quandary.

When the officer told her he had a warrant for her arrest she asked permission to get her hat. In another room she disrobed and defied him. Pavlick pleaded. She persisted. Then he wrapped her in a blanket and took her to jail.

Later friends brought her clothing. She has three children.

HURT BY FALLING PLANK, WOMAN SUES

Mrs. Clara Scherr, Webster avenue, struck on both feet by a plank which fell from a building at 2712 Penn avenue, owned by the Schenley estate, October 28, 1926, crushing them, has brought suit through her counsel, Morris G. Levy, for $10,000 damages. The suit is directed against John William Herron, Denny Brerton and the Commonwealth Trust Company, trustees of the Schenley estate.

KELLY, ATTORNEYS TO ADDRESS SLOVAKS

Judge Elder W. Marshall, of the Common Pleas court, Assistant United States Attorney Ralph H. Smith, Assistant District Attorney John F. Haggerty and Congressman M. Clyde Kelly will be the speakers at the dinner of the Slovak Social Club of East Pittsburgh on November 3, in Hungarian Hall, East Pittsburgh. The club has recently been chartered and the dinner will mark the presentation of the charter.

WILLS DEVISE TWO ESTATES

An estate worth $37,000 was willed by Charles McQuade, 615 Greenfield avenue, to his wife, Mary, for life. At her death, a son, Charles P. McQuade, inherits a house at 4140 Saline street. The balance is to be divided equally between four daughters and a granddaughter, Mrs. Agnes Hanna, Mrs. Anna Kluter, Mrs. Estella Wersant and Mrs. Helen McGuinness, and Miss Mary V. Wersant. The Pennsylvania Trust Company is executor.

William Challinor, 7349 Bennett street, left his $5,000 estate to his wife, Tillie E. Challinor, and named his son, Earl D. Challinor, executor.

WIFE JEALOUS, ASKS DIVORCE

His wife, who was a "beauty doctor," left him when he was out of work at Los Angeles, Cal., was jealous of him and would not come to Pittsburgh when he found employment, so Samuel Coon, 663 College avenue, wants a divorce from Hilda K. Coons. The couple were married in 1908. Coons is now 48 and his wife, 47. Coons said, when he last heard, his wife was at Long Beach, Cal., but he really does not know where she is now.

He charges his wife with desertion.

HIT BY AUTO, ASKS $100,000

Samuel H. Barris, 6338 Forward avenue, run down by J. B. Sutton, February 9, 1928, ribs broken and his left leg and hip injured, has brought suit against Sutton for $100,000 damages through his counsel, H. Fred Mercer. The accident happened at Murray and Douglass streets. It is averred by the plaintiff that Sutton did not slacken his speed and did not sound his horn to warn him of his approach.

Old House Conceals Still

A rickety one-story frame building was found to conceal an elaborate moonshine plant on the Wobly farm, Indiana township, prohibition agents reported.

They seized a 350-gallon still, 25 five-gallon containers of moonshine and many vats of mash. Joseph Capone, of 1 Pearl street, was arrested in connection with the raid.

G. O. P. WOMEN HOLD RALLY

Retention of Republican tariff was the keynote sounded and resounded by speakers at the meeting of Republican women workers who overflowed the G. O. P. headquarters in Wilkinsburg, 727 Wood street.

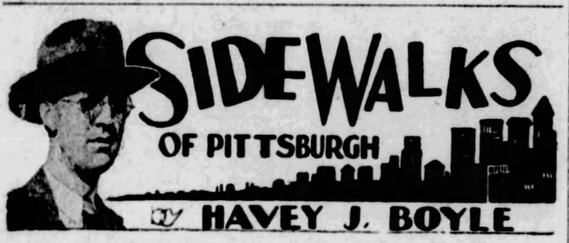
The meeting, attended by some 300 women, was comprised entirely of Wilkinsburg district chairwomen and their lieutenants. At the completion of the meeting a round table discussion of the campaign issue and the problems they present to the district workers was held, with all of the speakers presiding.

Speakers included W. E. Rawlinson, of the auditor general's department; Coroner W. J. McGregor; Assistant U. S. Attorney Ralph Smith and Roy Bostwick, Wilkinsburg borough solicitor.

CARRICK CHURCH TO HOLD BAZAR NOV. 1

A supper and bazar will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Bethel Baptist Church, Brownsville and Murray avenues, Carrick, November 1 and 2. Mrs. C. C. Livengood, president of the society, will be in charge.

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH



BY HAVEY J. BOYLE

PRESIDENTIAL campaigns cause old stories to be taken off the shelf and dusted off. Once in a while what apears to be a fresh one turns up. (Some of them are too fresh). Here is one that is new, but not "fresh."

* * *

A traveling salesman was cautioned by his superior to avoid mixing in political discussions. "Don't argue with our customers no matter what man they are supporting for the presidency," he said.

THE salesman, with this in mind, closed a successful deal. As the papers were signed, the customer said: "If the right man gets into the White House next March I'll have another big order, for you." "That's fine," replied the salesman, "I hope the right man gets in." "What do you think of Hoover?" asked the customer.

"I think," said the salesman, remembering his boss' instructions, "that Hoover is a fine, capable gentleman and that he would make, if elected, a fine President." "What do you think of Smith?" The salesman answered: "He is a fine man, too, and I believe, if elected, he would make a fine President." "Well," said the customer, "who do you think has the best show." The salesman without a moment's hesitation said: "I've always liked Ringling Brothers."

You've heard the one, of course, about Pat and Mike. "It seems there were two Irishmen . . ."

THERE were a couple of old grads at a luncheon held by Pitt alumni the other day. H. T. Morris, a Pittsburgh real estate man, graduated in 1869. O. S. Richardson is of the class of '78. Mr. Richardson is the burgess of Sewickley. They went to school when Pitt was located where the old Court House now stands at Fifth avenue and Grant street. Both Mr. Morris and Mr. Richardson remember a Pitt student named Andrew Mellon.

* * *

Mr. Richardson told of the man who wondered how Mr. Mellon, after he had gone to Washington, could fit himself into the routine necessary for his position as secretary of the treasury. The friend suggested it would not be easy for Mr. Mellon to observe such a routine, to which Mr. Mellon quietly replied: "You probably don't remember I once worked for my father."

JOCK SUTHERLAND, the Pitt football coach, was at the luncheon. Jock hardly expects to win any more games on the schedule. It appears from Dr. Sutherland's confidential report made to this writer that his team is not very strong this year while nearly every team his team will meet is very strong this year. Football coaches are pessimistic by nature. A baseball manager is always confident his boys will come out on top while a football coach sees certain defeat before every game. Both attitudes are traditional and likely never will change.

At the Pitt luncheon, also, was Karl E. Davis, one of this column's favorites. As a graduate manager of athletics Mr. Davis was the equal of any in the country.

Judge Advises Wife to Quit Husband

Judge Thomas D. Carnahan of Common Pleas Court advised pretty Gertrude Whitmire, 23, of 506 Third street, Breckenridge, to get rid of her husband as soon as possible when she testified before him that he refused to work and support her following her marriage to him in 1926. It was regarded as an indication as to how the court intended to decide the case, after making the utterance from the bench. Mrs. Whitmire, who is a stenographer and employed by the Logan Lumber Co., said that she had supported her husband, a mill worker, and that they had quarreled because she asked him to go to work.

FORMER SOUTH SIDE WOMAN DIES IN BUTLER

Mrs. Mary Keill Kihn, 84, a former resident of the South Side, died at her home, 122 First street, Butler. Mrs. Kihn was born in Germany and spent her childhood days on the South Side. She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church, Butler. She leaves a brother, Adam Keill, of Marion, Ind., and the following children, Mrs. H. E. Clowes, Mrs. Harry Beck, of Homestead; Matt, John, Miss Mary Catherine, Miss Anna Dora and Miss Maulin, all of Butler.

BUSY WITH CHARITY

EDNA LOVE

Prominent among workers on the home meetings committee for the campaign of the Welfare Fund is Miss Edna Love, arranging gatherings in homes in the city and suburbs. Mrs. John W. Lawrence is chairman of the committee.

Unwinding Hose Hurls Fireman Off Wagon

Knocked from the rear end of a moving hose wagon by the play of the hose as it was being unwound, Frank J. McMahon, 45, attached to Engine Company No. 16, suffered concussion of the brain and severe lacerations when he fell to Northumberland street, near Barnesdale street. He was removed to the Homeopathic Hospital.

The firemen were enroute to a fire in a locker room in the basement of a duplex, 543 Northumberland street, which entailed $500 loss. Mrs. A. Blumenthal, first floor, and Mrs. Maxwell Hedrick, second floor, were forced to leave their apartments by the smoke.

ASKS $30,000 AFTER AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

Two suits totaling $30,000 were filed in Common Pleas Court by Mrs. Grace Wilson and her husband, Fred E. Wilson, against the Dairyman Milk Company for injuries sustained when the cars of the plaintiff and defendant collided at Jackson and Mellon streets, August 29 last. Mrs. Wilson, who lives at 822 North Beatty street, was the worst hurt, sustaining injuries about the head, face and back for which she asks $25,000 through her counsel, Ben Paul Brasley. The husband asks $5,000 for the hurts he sustained about the body.

BIBLE SCHOOL TO HONOR GRANDMOTHERS, BABIES

Great-grandmothers and babies will share honors next Sunday morning at the Sunday school rally day services of the Bellevue Christian Church.

Supt. J. V. Schrock announced that he will present flowers to the oldest and youngest person and to the largest family present. The Rev Dr. James M. Ferguson, of the Bellevue United Presbyterian Church, will speak. A special musical program will be provided by the Sunday school orchestra, Frank W. Powell, director.

Automobile committees have been named to convey those physically disabled and those residing at a distance from the church. The Rev. Frank G. Helme is pastor.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 26.

Al was good in Boston. Shows what he can do if he can get anybody arguing with him. But Hoover won't make the same mistake and leave another opening.

His next big speech is the very last night before election, and before Al can answer it.

Dry voters will be staggering to the polls voting to protect the other fellow against liquor.

If Hoover wins the Literary Digest vote, and Smith wins the one on November Sixth, that would make it a tie and throw the election into Congress.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

STOLEN LOVE

by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Joan Is Asked by Ruth To Help Break Her Engagement

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Joan Hastings, seventeen and beautiful, lives with two old maiden aunts and one of them, Aunt Evvie, tells her of her unmarried mother's tragic love affair and death. Joan falls in love with Bill Martin, a penniless young man, and she is sent away to school. Bill, an innocent victim of a bootlegging gang, is sent to jail and Joan, begging for bail money from the aunts, confesses everything to them. She is put on a train for school in charge of a woman friend of Aunt Evvie's. Bill, freed, bids goodby to his mother, leaving no address and befriending Rollo Keyes, a rich young spender, is given a job by his father. Joan, escaping from the train, reaches his home just after he has gone. Concealing her presence from her aunts she gets a position in a department store and later works as a model in a smart shop. There Mrs. Barstow, a rich society woman, sees her, likes her and asks her to tea. She meets Curtis Barstow who immediately becomes interested in her. Joan goes to see Mrs. Martin and learns that Bill has written but has not asked for her. She thinks he no longer cares. Mrs. Kimmer, with whom she lives and for whose daughter she works, sees a love affair developing between her and Barstow and Francis tells her Mrs. Barstow has been asking about her past. Bill comes home and discovers that Joan is close at hand. He goes to the shop to wait for her, only to see Curtis drive away with her. Later Bill finds her and she asks him why he came to see her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"WHAT makes you so darned ambitious? What do you care about it for?" he scolded.

"I don't know—too busy to think right now!"

Too busy to think. Too busy to mourn.

Marguerite Sanderson sold a crystal and jade evening gown three hours after she stood and watched them lower her soldier-husband into a narrow, deep hole in the green. Maudie's prediction had come true. He didn't last the summer.

"Will Madame try the gown on?" she asked the blowsy banker's wife who coveted the wisp of silver and jade she was selling. And her voice was natural and calm.

"I have no tears left," she told the girls. "I used them up, long ago. When he first fell sick. And later, when I knew he would never get well, and I'd left—to live alone."

Maudie couldn't understand her. She didn't think it was quite decent. "I don't see how she can stand to work—right after the funeral!"

"I don't see how she could stand not to work!" That from Joan.

"But Joan's another one of your cold ones," Maudie told them. "I don't make any pretence of understandin' either one of 'em, myself."

September passed, and October. The work slackened, grew dull. There was time to sit around, and talk. Or think.

One day Marguerite did not come to work. Everyone was upset for days when they found she had shot herself with a small bluish pistol that belonged to the one she couldn't live without.

"She always seemed so calm!" Francine mourned.

Nobody could understand it. Nobody but Joan.

October passed, the first rains fell. The Winter season was ushered in. In Francine's shop stiff, formal brocades replaced Summer's fluttering chiffons. Velvets from France and woolens from Scotland. The remnants of Summer were hidden away.

Marguerite Sanderson was just a pale, ghostly memory.

"Thank God, she didn't shoot herself on the premises, anyway," Ruthie giggled. Ruth was the new girl they got to take Marguerite's place.

"And thank God for another live wire," Maude Murphy said, fervently. "This place was turning into a regular morgue."

Every one liked Ruth, even Curtis, though she flirted with him outrageously, and he felt she wasn't just the right companion for Joan.

Without knowing just how it happened, Joan was spending her noon hours and many of her evenings with Ruth. Curtis' business often took him out of town now, and Mrs. Barstow never renewed her old friendliness. She remained frigid, faintly patronizing on the rare occasions when Curtis insisted on her accompanying them to dinner, or a play. So Ruth was a life-saver, and Joan couldn't have found a merrier one. Maisie said she was as good as a show.

"I'm so damn poor, it's real charity to invite me to dinner," she'd grin, having a second helping of Maisie's creamed chicken. "I'm the original hard-luck story. My whole life has been a failure. I no sooner freeze on to a good thing when something happens to it."

"No!" Maisie snickered, having just a teeny, tiny bit more cream sauce.

"Yes! And that isn't the worst of it. I could have been a rich widow with black georgette and real pearls if I'd known, but, as I say, how could I tell?"

"Why, Ruth Gillespie, you never told me you were married!" Joan cried. "I thought—"

"Yes, I know. Miss Gillespie. I always liked Miss better than Mrs.—even with my first husband I was Miss Callahan."

"First at your age—" Gracious! That child with two husbands! Maisie couldn't get over it. And there was Johnnie, innocent as a baby, going on nineteen.

Ruth's round, dark eyes twinkled. She laughed and patted her permanently waved ringlets that had been alternately brown and yellow and red and brown again. "Twice widowed—grass—and sod."

"But then—why haven't you got the black georgette and the real pearls?" Maisie wanted to know.

Ruth lit a cigaret. "It's a long, sad story, mates. My parents were poor, but honest. In my second year at normal school, my parents having intended me for a schoolmarm, I eloped with an interesting stranger. That's how I'm a grass widow."

"What was the matter with him?" Joan smiled.

"Youth mostly. We were only kids, what do you expect?"

"You see?" Maisie's eyes telegraphed to Joan. "You see what happens?" But Joan wouldn't look. She was tying her handkerchief into knots in her lap.

"But you ought to have seen what a papa I picked the second time!" Ruth snickered. "Oh, boy! Sixty-three, and creaking at every joint. Money! He was simply gold lined. Well, did I lead a dog's life, I surely did. I practically had to knock him down and beat him up for every little thing I got. Before I left him he had cut off half my charge accounts. Good Lord, what a miser! Well—I naturally hated to leave him, thinking him being so old it wouldn't be long, but he seemed to get stronger every day, so finally I filed my papers—anyone would have given him another 20 years, honest—"

"Then why didn't you get—"

"Ask his lawyer!" the widow grinned. "Anyway, after I left him for Rollo Keyes—you know who they are—oil people—thinking I'd at least get alimony to tide me over until Rollo and I could get married, he up and dies on me, cutting me off with $150, and Rollo's father, the old ex-hod carrier that he is, cuts off Rollo's allowance, on account of a little bit of malicious gossip going around about me and him—and here I am—high and dry—selling gowns!"

"Maybe he'll change his mind," Joan said when Maisie had retired to the kitchen and closed the door, refusing all offers of help.

"Maybe," Ruth agreed. She went over to the piano and played "Three Blind Mice" and "The Farmer in the Dell," relics of the normal school days, whistling as she played.

"You know," she said finally, "it's true about me being unlucky. I'm in a devil of a place with Rollo now. He's followed me up here."

"Aren't you glad?"

"No. Joan? Joan, will you help me out?"

"If I can—"

"Listen. I'm in love." Her brown eyes softened. She wrinkled her tip-tilted nose and made a little face. "Ridiculous, isn't it? The real thing—Joan—"

Joan caught her breath . . . the real thing . . .

"And Joan—it isn't Rollo."

"Oh—"

"Yes, that's the devil of it. Rollo's a peach. I hate to hurt him. I really do. If ever a girl was in a jam . . . listen, Joan, . . . I can't face Rollo alone. Come with me when I go out with him, will you?"

"But I couldn't possibly tomorrow. It's Curtis' last night—he's going north the day after—"

"Well, some time soon, then. Besides, I want you to meet my friend. I want you to tell me what you think of him . . . your honest opinion. . . ."

Reluctantly Joan promised. "All right, then—some time soon."

Curtis was going away.

"Will you be true to me?" he asked smilingly.

"Will you be true to me?" she parried.

"Always!" His olive cheek came nearer. His lips were still smiling, but his eyes were not.

She gave him her hand. "I'll miss you, Curtis!"

Swiftly he kissed her sweet red mouth. "Goodbye, goodbye!"

Long after he had gone she leaned against the door, pressing her clenched hands against her mouth. Curtis had kissed her. Nobody had ever kissed her before . . . nobody . . . the tears came now . . . but Bill.

The "US" Career -:- -:- By Fanny Darrell

© 1928, by Newspaper Feature Service Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

EVERY girl in the world dreams of the career which is to be hers—the "I" career that calls for work and ambition and big things; that will bring her fame and fortune. Blithely she starts out on her way seeking the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. Confident in herself and her own powers she gaily walks the thorny path to Fame until Love comes.

Then everything else is forgotten except Love and the thought of the Beloved. And the "I" career is replaced with the "US" career—the biggest, finest, loveliest career of all. The one career for which every girl has been destined. It's a harder one than the "I" career, but it's by far the dearest and most soul satisfying of all.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood Bounds Back Into the Scene

DICKY has a horror of appearing inhospitable or penurious which amounts to an obsession and which has been impressed painfully upon me upon several memorable occasions in our life together. My chagrin, therefore, was equal to his when I realized that Harry Underwood had heard my unfortunate little speech about Dicky's having neglected his work, because of his devotion to the invalided adventurer.

"Oh, Harry!" I exclaimed in distress. "You know I didn't mean —. Dicky has loved being with you—we all have—and he needed the rest—he always works too hard in the summers anyway—and—there's nothing he can't make up—and——"

I was babbling on in the usual futile attempt at apology which one instinctively attempts after an embarrassing blunder when Dicky interrupted me sharply.

"For the love of Isaac, don't make it any worse, Madge! Luckily old Harry knows me and he's not going to hold me responsible for the fool spiel of a woman."

I lifted my head angrily, for there was something goading in Dicky's voice. But before I could speak, Mr. Underwood had crossed to my side and dropped a playfully caressing hand upon my shoulder, while he held up the other hand in a stagy gesture.

"If you dare lift a hand—or a foot—to this little gal," he intoned, "the Lawd have mercy on your miserable soul, for you'll get none from me."

Dicky laughed reluctantly.

"I won't beat her up this time," he said, "but—"

Mr. Underwood waved his hand grandiloquently and I turned back the clock of time to the first years of my marriage. How often I had laughed at the fantastic nonsense of this man, who then, as now, was my husband's best friend! I was glad to see that neither the perils nor hardships of his self-imposed absence and atonement had robbed him of his gay, indomitable spirit.

"Flutter along Dicky bird," he commanded. "Get into your cage or take a turn among the tree tops, it's all one to me. But I wouldst twitter a song into the ear of thy mate—so beat it."

Dicky moved to the inside corridor with alacrity. I guessed that he was glad to leave to me the task of further apology for the unlucky speech Mr. Underwood had overheard. I sensed also that he, too, must have recognized the serious note in his friend's gibing and realized that the convalescent adventurer wanted to talk to me with no one else in hearing.

When Dicky had gone downstairs, Mr. Underwood closed the glass doors leading from the corridor to our upstairs screened veranda—my favorite workship. Then he pushed forward a chair and seated himself opposite me, his brilliant black eyes, undimmed by the years or by his sufferings, gazing quizzically down at me.

"Firstly, Lady Fair,"—he said and his use of the name which he himself had given me and which no one else ever had used gave me a queer, little thrill of suspense as to the reason for this interview—"don't you worry your beautiful bean any more about your little speech just now. On the one hand you spoke only the truth. The Dicky-bird has put in a lot of time on me, passing up his work to do it, but on the other hand I happen to know that he was pretty nearly all in this Spring from overwork, and skirmishing around with me out here in the country hasn't done him a bit of harm. So my conscience is clear and you can quit harrying that Puritan variety of yours about having hurt my feelings. I'm not going to pack my suitcases and vamoose. I'm going to stay right here until I get good and ready to go. How's that?"

"That is splendid." I told him enthusiastically, but he stopped me from saying more.

"Then that's that, he said "and we can go on to 'Secondly.' I've several thoughts mulling around in my dome that I'll have to spill to you before I pick up the pieces where I dropped them years ago. You see there's an explanation of the state of that fool organ I call my heart, which I want to give you because of some of the things I used to say to you in our former incarnation. Remember?"

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, October 27

A STRONG position of Saturn this day, in trine aspect with the moon, may be said to govern the state of affairs. This figure is said to bring rewards to merit, patience, perserverance and application, and favors the occupations of Saturn—agriculture, real estate, mining, machinery and kindred vocations. It favors also old persons and institutions. Rash and impetuous moves and speech should not jeopardize Saturn's benefits. Sensational denouncements may be expected in personal matters, calling for sudden changes or travel.

Those whose birthday it is may look for rich rewards for patience, industry and steadfast purpose and effort, but may have unusual and unexpected developments in their personal affiliations. Keep firm grasp on tongue and temper.

A child born on this day should have many stable and reliable traits with industry and perseverance, but may also be quick tempered and impetuous. Its personal life may be eventful and sensational.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Can a Man Possibly Live for 250 Years?

NOT long ago I read a ridiculous tale. It was to the effect that a citizen of North China, Mr. Li Ching-Yun, celebrated his two hundred and fiftieth birthday.

DR. COPELAND

I suppose we need no further evidence. Mr. Li, who has a significant name, admits his great age. Unlike many persons who seek to hide the number of years, this gentleman boasts of his.

Nearly two hundred surviving descendants gathered to do honor to the old gentleman. Many of his family died a couple of hundred years ago, but there are plenty left.

Of course, candor compels me to state that I am decidedly skeptical, but a hundred years, more or less, count little in this story. It is remarkable enough, even though Ching-Yun is but one hundred and fifty.

But what the venerable man says about living is more interesting to me than the tale of the centuries. He was asked for advice about how to live long. Here is his remarkable reply:

"Keep a quiet heart.

"Sit like a tortoise.

"Walk sprightly like a pigeon.

"Sleep like a dog."

This is not a bad program. Let us study it for a moment.

Have you ever thought about it, that old men when asked for advice about how to live never recommend tonics, pills, powders or other medicines? All their suggestions relate to a manner of living which has for its object the prevention of disease. Suggestions are made which relate wholly to the care of the body by natural methods. They never trust to drugs and other medication.

"Keep a quiet heart," says Mr. Li. Fine!

To have this there must be temperance, temperate drinking and eating, temperance in the emotional life. Anger, excitement, overfast running or other exertion, everything that sets the heart to pounding—all these are dangerous to men and women past middle life.

I am not sure just how a tortoise sits, but I assume it rests quietly on the lower shell, absolutely relaxed in every muscle. If we could give our bodies such perfect relaxation when we sit down there would be restoration of strength and energy.

You have seen the pigeon strut off with all the sprightliness of elastic muscles and every evidence of abounding energy. That is the way we should do. Let us not drag our feet walking along as if we were actually 250 years of age. Let us be up and doing, walking "sprightly like a pigeon."

If we eat as we should and exercise when we should, getting into the warmth of the sunshine, then we, too, would "sleep like a dog." To live that way will add years to our lives.

You are a philosopher, Mr. Li, a philosopher such as your race has produced in such numbers. Whether your years are actually 250 or only a third of them, you have given a good formula, one well worth living. Thank you, venerable sage!

Answers to Health Queries

A. R. E. Q.—I am a woman of 72 with diabetes and am greatly troubled with my feet. They become burning hot, and I have enlarged joints and bunions. What would you advise?

A.—Bathing the feet in warm water to which a little alum has been added will prove soothing and restful. Wearing broad-toed shoes should help the bunion and enlarged joint. Wearing a pad of cotton between the great toe and the second will relieve pressure on the joint and give relief in many instances.

C. B. Q.—I have had bronchial pneumonia and still cough, but am taking cod-liver oil and have improved. Would it be wise to take sassafras tea in the morning while I am taking the oil?

2.—Have had neuralgia in my head, face and arms, mostly on the right side. What would you advise?

A.—If you follow the general rules for good health and continue taking your tonic it should not be necessary to resort to other means to keep the system clear.

2.—Try to locate the source of infection. The teeth and tonsils may have a bearing on the trouble.

S. F. Q.—What is the normal amount of blood sugar? What amount shows the presence of diabetes?

A.—Normal blood sugar varies from 0.06 to 0.12 per cent, the average being about 0.08 percent. In diabetes it ranges from 0.14 to 0.5 per cent, or higher.

C. A. Q.—Will glycerine correct indigestion?

A.—No. You must correct your diet. Eat simple, well-cooked food. Drink water between meals. Correct constipation, if present. Exercise daily in the open air.

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

FAIR PLAY IN LOVE AND MARRIAGE

SPORTSMANSHIP is the first thing which men demand in a prize fight, a ball game or a game of cards—and the last thing which most of them remember is the game of love.

* * *

Sportsmanship is something which very few women have practiced—amongst women, but which many women have carried to the point of martyrdom in matrimony.

* * *

Yet sportsmanship is as essential between the sexes in friendship, in love, in a ballroom and in a crowded street as in the prize ring or on the battleneld.

HELEN ROWLAND

A woman is a "poor sport" when she takes advantage of a man's shyness in a department store to edge in ahead of him and get served out of her turn.

A man is a "poor sport" when he takes advantage of a woman's delicacy by shoving past her in the subway rush.

A woman is a "poor sport" when she smilingly slips in front of a long line of waiting men at a ticket-seller's window.

A man is a "poor sport" when he spreads himself and his newspaper over two seats in a street car—when he paid for only one.

* * *

Sportsmanship is what makes a man admit that he is beaten in an argument, and a woman own that she was wrong in a quarrel.

* * *

Sportsmanship is what makes a woman scorn to rule a man by shedding crocodile tears and a man scorn to conquer a woman by brute force.

* * *

Sportsmanship is what makes one woman refrain from poaching on another woman's love-preserves by making herself too charming to the other's man; and makes a man refrain from flirting with a woman when he sees another man seriously trying to win her.

* * *

Sportsmanship is what prevents a woman from taking advantage of a man's chivalry by asking him to do something which she has no right to demand.

* * *

Sportsmanship is what prevents a man from taking advantage of a woman's selfish devotion by requiring of her some sacrifice which he has no right to require.

Sportsmanship is what makes a married pair accept their fate and "play the game"—or divorce each other fairly and politely, without back-biting and recriminations.

Yea, verily. Even in Paradise the brightest star in the heavenly crown will be—sportsmanship; and the true sport will not twang his harp so loudly as to drown the strains of the smaller angel's tune.

* * *

Sportsmanship is more than honesty; finer than chivalry; greater than love!

FAY KING

By FAY KING

A YOUNGSTER got in the way of three persons walking across a New York street, the other afternoon. A large hand was gently placed on his blond head and he was guided to one side.

The little lad looked up-up-up until, at the height of 6 feet 4½ inches, he saw a kindly face smiling at him. Of course, he would never associate that well-dressed, good-looking young man with tommyhawks and feathers, but the truth is, his blond scalp had actually been in the hands of a real live Indian.

The man was "Tiny" Roebuck.

Two hundred and forty pounds, 22 years old, a Choctaw Indian, Tiny hopes to become the heavyweight champion.

RAILWAY CLUB ELECTS W. S. M'ABEE PRESIDENT

W. S. McAbee, vice president and general superintendent of the Union Railroad Company, was elected president of the Railway Club last night at a meeting held in the Fort Pitt Hotel. E. J. Devans, general superintendent of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railroad, the retiring president, was made a member of the executive committee. Other officers were: First vice president, E. W. Smith, of the Pennsylvania Railroad; second vice president, Prof. Louis E. Endsley, consulting engineer; treasurer, E. J. Searles, and secretary, J. D. Conway.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Pittsburgh Society Girl Has a Leading Part In New Play

SO MUCH talk about theatrical benefits is making me stage-minded this week, and reminds me of a Pittsburgh and Sewickley society girl who has adopted the stage as a profession. This young woman used to appear with the Sewickley Valley Hospital Cot Club players, who are giving a benefit performance of "The Whole Town's Talking" this afternoon in the Pitt Theater.

Last summer she made her first professional appearance with the George Sharp Players at the Pitt. Now I'm sure you know I'm talking about Mrs. William J. Griffith, Jr., or Brown Mehard as she is better known. She is not yet on Broadway, but she has a leading part in a play that opened Monday night in Englewood, N. J.

AND now I can't keep away from the subject of weddings and engagements, and no wonder, when one considers the importance of nuptials this fall.

ONE of the loveliest fall weddings took place yesterday when Alice Walton Childs, daughter of the James H. Childs, of Albemarle street, became the bride of Oliver P. Nicola, Jr., son of the Oliver P. Nicolas, of the Schenley apartments. The ceremony was performed at 5:30 o'clock in the Episcopal Church of the Ascension with the Rev. Dr. Boyd Edwards, rector of the church, as the officiant.

The church was simply and distinctively decorated for the wedding with tall standards of white chrysanthemums and cibotium trees on either side of the chancel.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, appeared in her mother's wedding gown of point lace and white mousseline over ivory satin, made in period style with the skirt trimmed with a flounce of point lace with butterfly motifs. The sleeves were of lace and long and tight-fitting. And the skirt ended in a train of cream satin. Her veil, long enough to cover the train of the gown, was of point lace. And the bride carried white orchids, white jessamine and lilies of the valley, tied with white ribbon.

Mary Childs, who came out last year, as her sister's maid of honor, appeared in a lovely color for autumn—orange tinted chiffon, shading into bronze. And her hat was of bronze velvet. The frock had a wide collar of chiffon ending in drapery over either shoulder, a draped skirt, bordered with bronze chiffon. She carried bronze pompon chrysanthemums and orange tinted roses.

The bridesmaids were frocks of a deeper shade of orange, and hats of bronze velvet.

The bridesmaids, you know, were Mrs. John Berdan, the former Margaret Evans; Marjorie Kimball, Josephine Nicola, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Shirley Austin, formerly Natalie Stone; Mrs. George Armstrong Kelly, formerly Agnes Stewart, and Frances Cook, of Rochester, N. Y., a cousin of the bride.

Raymond Moreland was Mr. Nicola's best man. The ushers were Stewart McClintic, Graham McCargo, McCook Reed and Charles Bell, of Pittsburgh; Calhoun Jones and Lindell Gordon, of St. Louis, and Claibourne Patty, of Cleveland.

Mrs. Childs, mother of the bride, appeared in wine colored crepe with a hat of the same shade, and Mrs. Nicola, black velvet and lace. Both wore corsages of gardenias. Mrs. Harvey Childs, grandmother of the bride, appeared in slate blue crepe with circular flares on either side of the skirt, and a slate blue hat.

A dinner and reception in the Childs' home followed with covers for 40 at the bride's table. Her table simulated the shape of a four-leaf clover, and was decorated with a silver epergne, in the center of which were white roses, jessamine, white chrysanthemums and white bouvardia. Lighting the table were ivory tinted candles in tall silver cadelbara.

Following a honeymoon in romantic Havana, the young Nicolas will make their home in Ponca City, Okla.

OF course you all knew about Alice Child's wedding, but I daresay there are a number who haven't heard of Barbara Book's betrothal. Her father and mother, the Robert Donnell Books, of Sewickley, have made known her engagement to Dr. Burleigh Cruikshank, of Boston, Mass.

MARGARET GWENDOLYN KOCH, daughter of the Harry A. A. Kochs, of Sheridan avenue, and Townsend Bongaardt, of Philadelphia, were married last evening in the Koch home by the Rev. Dr. C. George Fisher, of the Highland Presbyterian Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white transparent velvet, trimmed with silver lace, and veiled in tulle with a cap of duchess lace. She carried Pernet roses and lilies of the valley.

Orchid taffeta and velvet fashioned the gown worn by the maid of honor, Sylvia Woodford Geegan, and green taffeta and velvet by Catherine Virginia Koch, her sister's bridesmaid.

Winfield M. McAllister was best man, and Charles J. Faunce and A. Merrick Blanthin, of Philadelphia, were ushers.

Mrs. Koch, mother of the bride, wore pansy georgette and velvet, and the bridegroom's mother, green transparent velvet.

A reception and dinner followed. Following an eastern wedding trip, the Bongaardts will be at home after November 1 in Philadelphia.

MISS BESSIE MARY RIGGS became the bride of Clifford Clarke Sneed on Wednesday evening in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church of Crafton, with the Rev. Roland O. Hudson officiating.

The bride wore a gown of blue transparent velvet with a hat to match and a corsage of oride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Willa Riggs, sister of the bride, as her only attendant, was gowned in wisteria transparent velvet. Her corsage was made with pink sweetheart roses. John Robert Snead was his brother's best man. A dinner at the Roosevelt Hotel followed. After a southern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Snead will be at home on Oakwood road, Crafton.

THE National Park Seminary Alumnae Association will hold its regular monthly meeting November 2 at 1 p. m. in the home of Miss Harriett Hespenheide, Hampton street. The hostesses will be Miss Hespenheide, Mrs. John W. Conwell and James S. Lockhead.

THE University of Pittsburgh Business Administration Association will open its social program with an informal dance tonight in the Hotel Schenley. James Lindsay is chairman of the event, assisted by Fred Hobbash, Fred Wellinger, F. Arens and John Stewart.

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Van Sickle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Mahoney, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Spalding.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB HAS RECEPTION

THE president's day reception of the Twentieth Century Club, always a beautiful affair, this year took on an unusual beauty. The decorations were distinctive and highly artistic, combining a profusion of fall flowers and quantities of hothouse fruits. Then, too, there were the new decorations of the clubhouse itself—new upholstery, new draperies and hangings, new color notes introduced—all showing the originality and artistry of the president, Mrs. William Maclay Hall, who was welcomed formally into office yesterday and who is making interior decorating one of her latest interests.

The clubhouse was crowded during the hours of the reception. Mrs. Hall received with Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., honorary president; Mrs. Elizabeth Burt Mellor, Mrs. Jacob Simpson Payton and Miss Eleanor T. Grier, members of the executive board. A number of the older members presided at the tea tables and a group of young girls serving as aides gave added charm to the picture. A Neapolitan orchestra in costume played and accompanied Miss Angelina Casale, also in costume, who sang Italian airs, the musicians moving about from room to room.

DR. GEORGE C. KUNZ, of New York, internationally known authority on gems and a prominent member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, will be a guest of honor at a dinner to be given by the Western Pennsylvania branch and the Woman's Auxiliary next Wednesday evening in the University Club. Dr. Kunz will give an illustrated talk on "Gems."

THE Schenley Delphian Society will meet Monday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. William R. Jones, Ridgeville street, and at 2 o'clock will be joined by the Dormont chapter. They will hear Mrs. H. C. Reller describe her recent trip around the world.

* * *

THE Bradford Woods Civic Club will present Franceska Kaspar Lawson, soprano, of Washington, in recital Saturday evening in the school auditorium. Miss Margaret T. Esser will be the reader, and Maynard Deane will accompany Mrs. Lawson. Mrs. J. Bertrand Kelley, president of the club, will entertain Mrs. Lawson in her home over the week-end.

ABOUT 20 representatives from other clubs were present yesterday at the reception given by the Woman's Club of Carnegie in honor of its new president, Mrs. Harvey Bigham. Mrs. Case Foster was hostess in her Washington avenue home. Dr. H. E. Winner, principal of South Hills High School, discussed election issues and Wilbur F. Maxwell spoke concerning the Welfare Fund, these talks constituting the afternoon's only program features.

* * *

MRS. LUCIA AMES MEAD, of the Women's International League for Peace, told the Thursday Afternoon Club of Wilkinsburg yesterday what women can do to bring about world peace. Another speaker at the meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. A. L. Schieber, Center avenue, was H. E. Carmack, who outlined the Metropolitan Plan. Mrs. Glenn Stoltz and Mrs. George F. Martin were assistant hostesses.

BAUER AND GABRILOWITSCH

Carnegie Music Hall

Fantasia and Fugue in A minor.....Bach
(Arranged by Harold Bauer)
Sonata in B major for four hands..Mozart
(Arranged by Harold Bauer)
Variations in B flat.....Schumann
(a) Fantasia, Op. 103.....Schubert
(b) Theme Varie, Op. 84, No. 1.Schubert
(c) Rondo, Op. 84, No. 2.....Schubert
(All arranged by Harold Bauer)
Scherzo ..... Saint-Saens

Harold Bauer and Ossip Gabrilowitsch, each in his own right a superb pianist, appeared again in Carnegie Music Hall last night in a two-piano recital. From the first number the audience grew impatient for more and more of their music. Never was applause better earned.

It is a beautiful thing to see two artists consecrate their talents so unselfishly toward a class of music that requires such self-effacement. Now and then Bauer is perhaps in the foreground, but the ensemble is as nearly perfect as anyone could desire. Bauer is always the poet; he is humorous, too. Gabrilowitsch is fundamentally romantic, whimsical, and has a delicate sense for burlesque. When they combine their qualities, there is never a dull moment in their playing; they make music that grips the attention, amuses, and yet never grows sensational. And they know their traditions and play each composer with keenest sense of style.

The program was in excellent taste. Bauer's arrangements are well considered and the parts inter-weave without losing the design of the original compositions. He is thinking music first, piano afterwards. Both the Schumann Variations and the group of Schubert were deservedly most popular. Schutt's Impromptu Rococo, the sensuous Arensky Waltz, and another bit of a Mozart Sonata were given as encores.

CHILTON GOES TO CARNEGIE NEWSPAPER

This week's issue of the Carnegie Union carries an announcement that Robert M. Chilton, for years prominently identified with the daily newspapers of Pittsburgh, takes charge of the publication as its editor.

Eight years ago, Mr. Chilton and Jesse I. Penney purchased the Union from its founder, A. A. Beard, who established the publication 32 years earlier.

George B. Stewart was appointed editor and general manager of the job printing department. Two years ago, Mr. Stewart became a member of the company, which during the past year was incorporated.

The steady increase in business, the announcement says, made imperative additional facilities and Mr. Stewart relinquishes his editorial duties to devote his time to the job printing department, continuing also as business manager of the paper.

Mr. Chilton came to the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph as a reporter in 1900 and filled practically every position in the editorial department of that newspaper, having been managing editor when it was merged with the Pittsburgh Sun, in the founding of the Sun-Telegraph in August, 1927.

He continued with the Sun-Telegraph as city editor, resigning from that position last week.

Following the announcement in this issue, the Union also prints letters from executives of the Sun-Telegraph expressing regret at his leaving their employ as well as congratulations and best wishes for his continued success with the Carnegie Union, in which he is financially interested.

WOMAN SICK THREE YEARS

Helped By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Little Rock, Ark.—"I was sick for three years after my last baby came. I could hardly walk and could not eat nor sleep as I should because I was so nervous. I took seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used that number of bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am feeling just fine. I have a large family and do the work for all. Your Compound made me a well woman, and I have a happy home now. I always try to keep a bottle in the house and I tell everyone about it." Mrs. H. A. Adams, R. F. PRUDENCE PENNY DINNER MENUS

Prudence Penny Menus

Cream of Celery Soup.
Roast of Beef, Florentine.
Baked Potatoes.
Tomato Waldorf Salad.
Baked Custard.

Coffee.

HERE'S a new way to serve a roast of beef—a way that will delight the eye as well as the palate. For we will have the rich brown of the beef contrasting with the vivid green of its accompanying spinach, topped by the gold and white of grated egg.

We shall need about five pounds of beef roll, a tablespoon of salt, half a teaspoon of pepper, a peck of spinach, two tablespoons of butter, two hard cooked eggs and two tablespoons of chopped parsley. Rub the roast well with the seasonings, then sear it on all sides in a hot oven for 15 minutes.

Reduce the temperature to 350 degrees Fahrenheit, and bake for one and one-half hours. In the meantime, parboil, drain and butter the spinach and add it to the roast. Continue baking for about 20 minutes longer. Remove the roast to a hot platter and surround it with the heaped up spinach. Cover the spinach with grated egg and chopped parsley.

TOMATOES add zest to any meal. Peel the tomatoes, remove their pulp, and fill the cavities with this mixture: Two stalks of celery, a ripe apple, one-fourth cup walnut meats and one-fourth cup mayonnaise. Wash and scrape the celery, peel the apple and cut each into small pieces. Chop up the walnut meat and mix all three ingredients into the mayonnaise. Then stuff the tomatoes, put them in the ice box to chill, and serve when icy cold.

FOR a family of six, allow six eggs for the baked custard. Beat them well, add four cups of milk, a half cup of confectioner's sugar, a tablespoon of vanilla flavoring and a pinch of salt. Put into a baking dish and place the dish in a pan of water. Then put both in a moderate oven—about 325 degrees Fahrenheit—bake for half an hour or until the custard is firm.

A little nutmeg grated over the top adds to the flavor. Place in the ice box to cool. And, just before serving, cover with whipped cream.

DELICIOUS DESSERTS

HOW often have you said that you would invite the Smiths and the Browns for dinner if you could only serve something good and unusual without slaving all day? That means an interesting dessert more than any other feature, for the soup, roast, vegetables or salad never get the critical attention that women, and even men, give the dessert.

* * *

MARSHMALLOW CHARLOTTE—Whip one pint of heavy cream and gradually add one and one-half cups confectioner's sugar, 12 marshmallows cut in small pieces, and one cup of drained crushed pineapple. Soften two tablespoons gelatin in one-half cup of cold water and melt over hot water. Cool and add the juice of two lemons. Fold into the mixture. Line an oblong mold with one and one-half dozen ladyfingers. Fill the mold with the cream mixture and chill from six to eight hours.

What Shall I Do With Leftover Meat?

Always a problem! To throw away leftovers is wasteful—to warm them over is monotonous. But—have you ever tried combining leftover meats with Knox Sparkling Gelatine? You'll have a meat loaf that every member of the family will eat to the last morsel without realizing it is made from leftover food. You'll have a dish fit for guests! You'll have a little secret that will help you keep up the family appetite and keep down the family budget.

Meat Loaf

Take two cups of any leftover well seasoned stock, bouillon or diluted gravy, bring to the boiling point and add one envelope Knox Sparkling Gelatine softened in one-half cup cold water. When mixture begins to stiffen, add two cups of any cold chopped meat at hand (veal, ham, beef, or chicken). Also mold in a little red or green pepper, celery, onion if desired, or parsley. Turn into a square mold first dipped in cold water and chill. Remove from mold and cut in slices for serving.

KNOX

SPARKLING GELATINE

"The Highest Quality for Health"

Why not order a package of Knox Gelatine from your grocer and try it? Write for Mrs. Knox's New Book of recipes and entertaining suggestions. Free—if you mention your grocer's name.

PINEAPPLE ALHAMBRA—Blend three egg yolks with one-half cup of sugar and combine with one pint of scalded milk. Cook until mixture thickens in the top of a double boiler. Add two tablespoons of gelatin soaked in one-half cup of cold milk and stir until dissolved. Add two cups of crushed drained pineapple and three stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into small molds, chill and serve unmolded with whipped cream.

COCOA TAPIOCA PUDDING—Three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 pint (2 cups) milk, 1 tablespoon butter, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, ½ cup sugar, 3 tablespoons cocoa, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Put the milk in a double boiler and, when it is hot, add the tapioca, sugar and butter and cook until the tapioca thickens and is clear. Add the cocoa and the well-beaten egg and pour into a greased baking dish. Bake one hour.

This pudding is delicious served with a meringue made from two stiffly beaten egg whites and browned in the over for two minutes.

CREAMED MUSHROOMS—Rinse the mushrooms only well enough to remove earth. Do not peal, but remove the stems, which can be used for cream of mushroom soup. Simmer the stems of one pound of mushrooms in 2½ cups of milk, season and serve in cup.

The mushroom tops you saute in butter over medium heat for 10 minutes. Make a cream sauce from two tablespoons butter, the same quantity of flour and one cup milk. Season to taste. Arrange toast on a high platter, place the mushrooms on this and pour the cream sauce over all and serve. This makes an excellent luncheon or supper dish.

THE Davis-Elkins football team will stop off in Pittsburgh tonight en route to Cleveland, where the Scarlet Hurricane clashes with Ralph Vince's John Carroll University eleven tomorrow. The party will be in charge of "Honest Cam" Henderson, the Senators' famous coach.

RODGERS BOXES AGAIN TONIGHT

JACKIE RODGERS, local Negro flash, who meets Dan Billick, of Duquesne, former amateur star, in the eight-round semi-final to the Cuddy DeMarco-Phil Goldstein battle at Motor Square Garden Monday night, also goes to the post tonight, when he meets Joey Engles at Pontiac, Mich., and has a match pending with Willie Davies at Everett, Pa., November 2.

Rodgers is in great demand because of his spectacular style. His bout with Howard Mayberry at McKeesport last Monday night will not be forgotten soon by the fans, who are anxious to have the pair rematched.

Billick has shown to fine advantage in his few professional bouts under the management of Jimmy Bronson in New York and his local professional debut against Rodgers will be in the nature of a homecoming event. They will clash at 120 pounds. Billick arrived back in town from New York this morning and will finish his training here.

SHOW AT YOUNGSTOWN

Ray Mitchell and Billy Wallace do the honors in the main bout of a show at Youngstown tonight.

Maxie Rosenbloom, crusher of local hopes, is anxious to return here for battles with Leo Lomski, Jimmy Slattery or any other topnotch opponent.

Battling Gizzy, of Donora, registered a hit in beating Tommy Lavery, of Philadelphia, at Johnstown, last Monday night, and is in line for a main bout there.

There will be no boxing show at McKeesport next week, the Palisades rink being rented for political gatherings.

Young Guido, of Sharon, and Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, will box the eight-round semi-final to the Ike McFowler-Frankie Wine bout at Johnstown, November 8.

PHILLIPS VS. SHIMAR

Tug Phillips, of Fayette City, and Dorey Shimar, of Williamsport, will box the main bout of a show at Clearfield, Pa., next Monday night. Eddie Leroy, of Williamsport, and Johnny Chiodo, of Johnstown, will appear in the semi-final.

Johnstown fans are complaining about the decisions in bouts held there recently and are asking that new officials be provided. They claim Tug Phillips defeated Danny Cooney last Monday night, but lost the decision, and that Bud Gorman deserved a win over Ike McFowler, which he did not get.

DAVE ADELMAN BEATS RYAN AT M'KEESPORT

Johnny Ryan, of Erie, found a master in Davy Adelman, peppy Philadelphia fighter, in the main bout at the Majestic Club, McKeesport, last night, and the Quaker City boy had little trouble in getting the verdict. Adelman seemingly toyed with Ryan throughout the encounter, hitting at will and then only when Johnny tried to become aggressive himself.

The Philadelphian's timing was remarkable. Every instance in which Ryan came in, Adelman gave him a dose of bitter medicine, nailing him with blows to the body and to the head, being exceptionally accurate. Davy wound up without a scratch, while Johnny is nursing a badly bruised face this morning.

In the semi-windup, Dominick Profio, former local amateur, found stubborn resistance in Jackie Murray, Negro fighter, but in the end he carried off the six-round decision. Murray's jabbing in the early rounds bothered the local boy to a certain extent, but he tired as the contest progressed and Profio stepped in and piled up a wide margin of advantage.

The exhibition of Ken Hargraves, of New Kensington, a Negro boxer, was really surprising, although he lost the fight to Battling Gizzy, of Donora, in their six-round go. Hargraves subbed for Frankie Moran at the last minute, and, had he not been floored for a nine-count in the sixth, would have been just shaded by the Donora mittman. Early in the fight Hargraves had Gizzy puzzled with his rather wild aggressiveness in which he gave the fans as much action as they craved.

The opener saw Johnny Haggerty, of Lawrenceville, easily defeating Jimmy Kane, of McKeesport.

GRANGE CASE TO COME UP AGAIN NOVEMBER 13

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—Harold (Red) Grange, galloping ghost of the gridiron and football hero of a few years ago, obtained a continuance until November 13 when arraigned in Domestic Relations Court yesterday on a paternity charge brought by Mrs. Helen Flozak, who claims Grange is the father of her seven-months-old daughter.

Mrs. Flozak was in court holding in her arms the baby she has named Haroldine.

Grange appeared late and did not glance at the complainant, who said she had met Grange when he stopped at a hotel where she was employed and had accompanied him to his home at Wheaton, Ill., several times. Grange's attorney, Congressman John J. Gorman, asked for a continuance to allow time for investigation. Grange has charged that the complaint is inspired by an attempt to extort money from him.

WAYNESBURG HI MEETS N. UNION TEAM TODAY

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—A high school football game which is attracting more than ordinary interest from Greene county sports fans will be staged here today, when the Waynesburg and North Union township of Fayette county elevens clash at College Park.

North Union, which is coached by Butch Biery, a Waynesburg youth, is the surprise eleven in Fayette county this season, having upset the dope in the opening game of the year by defeating Uniontown High by a decisive margin. Along with Redstone and German Township High schools, North Union is leading in the race for Fayette county scholastic honors.

YANKS PLAN TO TOUR SOUTHWEST IN SPRING

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—(INS.)—Before leaving here today for St. Petersburg, Fla., Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, said that the world champions would play several exhibition games in the southwest next spring. Texas and certain hitherto unexplored sections of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri are to be visited after the Yanks complete their training in Florida.

The itinerary has not been definitely decided upon, but it probably will include New Orleans, Dallas, Fort Worth and Tulsa.

Pain

Neuritis, Rheumatism

"Heet" relieves instantly! With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body. Instantly you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. "Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. It is a clean, pleasant liquid, doesn't stain, blister or irritate, and costs only 60 cents at drug stores.

NATIONAL BEST, FANS SAY

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

GRANTING the Yankees their due as champions of baseball's vast domain, there are thousands of National League followers, including many in the Pittsburgh district, who still insist that the National League is superior to the American from top to bottom.

These same supporters of the senior circuit will tell you that the Cardinals who tasted such a bitter defeat in the inter-league squabble was not the same set of Redbirds who defeated the Pirates 15 out of 22 games.

That the American League is a "two-team" affair is the contention of those who put the Heydler circuit out in front. Take the Yankees and Athletics out of the junior organization and what have you left? A Class AA outfit, say the National boosters—and there is some weight to their words.

BROWNS WELL DOWN

The Browns finished in third place, but they were so far from the leaders their activities were not followed outside of St. Louis, where the boys toss pop-bottles and carry on in a raucous manner in other ways.

After considering the plight of the third-place Browns, take a squint at the Robins and you will observe

STATE WINDS UP WORK FOR SYRACUSE BATTLE

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 26.—(AP.)—Penn State completed its preparation for the Syracuse game with a light practice yesterday afternoon. The Lions again had rain for their portion and worked for the entire period with a wet ball. From the way the first team lined up, indications are there will be seven sophomores and four juniors in the State lineup at the kickoff.

SOCCER CLUBS TO BATTLE TOMORROW

By TOM BIRKS

With the District League swinging into action tomorrow afternoon with three scheduled games, soccer fans around this section should have little trouble getting to a game that should take their interest. At Lawrence Park, the local derby between the Celtics and the Rovers will be staged, and few battles in the Pittsburgh district carry the appeal that the Strip boys have when they come together. Another local derby will be staged at the Homewood playgrounds, and incidentally, this game should appeal to East Enders, that is, the meeting between Douglas and the Pittsburgh Soccer Club. Douglas lost last Saturday, but Manager Masterton has been drilling the boys hard during the week to try and put a crimp into the activities of the Dolan outfit. Pittsburgh has embraced the punch that used to carry the Curry club to victory when Charley Powell and the Schang boys were signed up. Then Jimmy Moremen's pleasing return to shooting form last Saturday must have made the sponsors of the Blue and White feel good.

The writer saw Douglas in action against the Rovers in the first game. And there is no reason why the Wilkinsburg club cannot win a bunch of games. If Masterton can get his forward line to shoot oftener, and not try to dribble the ball into the net, Douglas should win games. Douglas plays just as scientific game as do the Rovers, but the Strip forwards usually shoot when the penalty area is reached.

The Scholastic League will also stage a full schedule tomorrow. Langley Old Boys will meet the Rover Juniors at Lawrence Park at 2 p. m. Westinghouse will meet Thistles at Schenley High School Field. Rodger Cubs at Patterson A. C., and Wabash and Castle Shannon at Carnegie Smilers.

KISKI GRIDDERS HOSTS TO DUQUESNE RESERVES

Kiski will send against the Layden-trained Duquesne University Reserves tomorrow practically the same players who scored the 20-0 victory against the Carnegie Tech Frosh and who held the W. & J. Frosh to a tie. The only change announced in the lineup yesterday was that Port, who has been performing brilliantly as a substitute halfback, will go into the lineup in place of Montgomery at quarterback.

The game will be played on Kiski's grounds at Saltsburg. Mitinger and Advisory Coach Jim Marks put the team through several hard scrimmages there twice this week and report their men in fine condition. The Kiski players have come through their campaign so far singularly free from injuries, in spite of the hard games they have played to date.

JIMMY M'LARNIN TURNS TO WELTERWEIGHT CLASS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Cyclonic Jimmy McLarnin, most colorful of all little fighters, has acknowledged at last that he is no longer in the running for the lightweight championship. He will do his future pugilism in the junior welterweight division.

News of the Irish lad's retirement from the 135-pound class leaked out yesterday through his acceptance of a match with Tommy Grogan of Omaha at Detroit.

He signed to meet Grogan in a 10-round bout on November 20, but on only one condition that he be allowed to come in at 137 pounds.

MONK, PENN GUARD, OUT OF NAVY GAME

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—Lou Young, Pennsylvania football coach, received the bad news yesterday that Ralph Monk, regular guard, who has been laid up with a boil on his elbow, will not be able to play against the Navy eleven tomorrow.

Gene Kuen, who started against Penn State College last week, will play right guard again. As Kuen is rather light for the post, it is believed a number of substitute guards will be used.

PIRATE ICEMEN HOLD FIRST WORKOUT

PITT-TECH SET TO RENEW FEUD

SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS

BEST IN PITTSBURGH — FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1928 — TWENTY-NINE

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Reported Parkinson May Play Tomorrow—Players Err in Concealing Injuries From Team Bosses—Cotton Latest Local Hockey Holdout—Bucknell Praises Geneva for Sportsmanship and Hospitality in Football

DESPITE his absence from practice this week, owing to injuries, and the reports that he would not be able to play in the game against Carnegie Tech, many local football fans are looking for Tom Parkinson to be at his fullback post for Pitt at the Stadium tomorrow afternoon in the annual tilt with the Tartan.

Tom Parkinson

Not that Pitt is accused of trying to spread any bear stories. There is no doubt that the Panther management told the truth about Parkinson's condition, for the California High School product has been a severely battered lad since the West Virginia game. But friends of the husky fullback who know his spirit predict that when tomorrow afternoon arrives he will forget all about his hurts and that it will not be possible to keep him out of the battle against the Plaid without resorting to the use of a ball and chain.

WHETHER Coach Sutherland will yield to Parkinson's entreaties that he be allowed to play, however, is a question. The Blue and Gold mentor will have to be thoroughly satisfied that there will be no probability of more serious injury to Pug before he will consent to let him take his place in the lineup.

Parkinson would be in much better shape at present if he had reported the physical damage he suffered in the West Virginia game. The Pitt coaches have been criticized for letting him play against Allegheny College last Saturday, instead of giving him a chance to recover for the clash with the Skibos, but the criticism was unjust for the reason that they were unaware of the fullback's injuries.

PARKINSON'S failure to report his unfitness for play is just another instance of the mistaken zeal that is common among young athletes. They fear that if they mention an injury they will be kept out of a contest or will be suspected of a lack of gameness or of resorting to alibis for a possible poor showing.

Even in major league baseball, many a youthful pitcher, about to be sent into a game, has concealed the fact that his hurling arm was sore, fearing that he might incur the displeasure of the management.

THOUGH the ailing players who take this course sincerely believe that they are doing the right thing in hiding their hurts and that they are acting for the best interests of themselves and their teams, it's all a serious mistake. Not only do they run the risk of aggravated hurts that will render them less valuable in important later contests, or perhaps even lead to permanent injuries that will ruin their athletic careers, but they are harming instead of helping their teams. For a crippled player may be a handicap rather than an aid to his club. A good substitute who is sound and capable of playing his best game is more valuable to a team than a regular who is unfit.

Harold Cotton

THE HOLDOUT ranks on the Pittsburgh hockey club are growing. The latest local player to kick over the traces and refuses to sign the contract tendered to him by the Pirate bosses, following the action of Roy Worters and Bert McCaffrey, is Harold Cotton, who made a strong finish on the line with Hib Milks and Harold Darragh last season.

Cotton, it is said, received a contract calling for the same salary he received during the last three years. It was learned last night that he has refused to sign it, declaring that he feels he is entitled to an increase, and that he will return to his home and remain out of the game unless he gets it.

IF ALL of the early off-season trade rumors affecting the St. Louis National League Club were founded on fact, there wouldn't be much left of the Cardinals of 1928 for next season except the new uniforms that were ordered for the recent world series.

First the space-fillers doped it out that Manager Bill McKechnie would be dropped, that Frank Snyder would be brought from Houston in the Texas League to take his place as leader of the Redbirds, and that Joe Schultz, former Beltzhoover citizen, who managed Danville in the Three-I League this year would succeed Snyder in Houston.

AND NOW they are trading off all the Cardinal players. Not only is Catcher Jimmy Wilson to be swapped, according to their stories, but Outfielder Taylor Douthit will be disposed of as soon as possible. First Baseman Jim Bottomley will be put on the block, Pitcher Grover Alexander will get the gate, and Outfielder George Harper and Pitcher Flint Rhem also will be let go. President Sam Breadon says he is so weary of the trade reports that he is going to take a vacation to rest up from the task of denying them. He announces that he will have no statement to make as to the status of Manager McKechnie or any of the players named until early in December.

Taylor Douthit

NOT only did Geneva College impress Bucknell by her playing strength in holding the Lewisburg team, which is still undefeated, to a 13-to-7 score in the game at Beaver Falls on October 6, but she earned a reputation for hospitality, sportsmanship and athletic efficiency that is being spread through the East by Coach Carl Snavely and his players.

Army Star In Battle With Yale At New Haven Tomorrow

FINAL DRILLS TODAY

By JESS CARVER

BEFORE a background of glorious tradition, woven in a series of 14 duels fought over a period of 21 years, Pitt and Tech will renew their struggle tomorrow in the Stadium.

Given a good, or even a fair day, a crowd of better than 55,000 is expected to view the elevens in action. The advance sale has been tremendous, and Pitt officials have made arrangements to handle additional thousands of ticket purchasers at the gates tomorrow.

In the 14 battles that have been staged between Pitt and Tech, the Panthers have emerged victors 11 times. The Tartans have won thrice. There have been no ties. Pitt, winning in 1906 by a score of 31 to 0, continued to rule supreme until 1923, when Tech scored a 7-to-2 triumph. There were no games in '09, '11, '12, '13 or in '18. After playing in 1919, when a riot broke out at Forbes Field, the series again was discontinued until 1923, when Tech broke the spell. The Plaid repeated in '24, lost in '25, won again in '26 and lost last year to the great Panther eleven that divided with Yale the honor of being recognized as Eastern intercollegiate champions.

TEAMS IN HIDING

Both teams are putting their finishing touches on the training hidden away from the prying eyes of anxious fans. The Skibos are in a mountain retreat, while Pitt is holding forth at a country club on the outskirts of the city.

Tech, undefeated in its games so far and shooting for the Eastern title, hopes to crush the Panthers under the attack that has laid low Thiel, Westminster, Ashland and Wash-Jeff. The Tech eleven is a good eleven, mistake not, and has been established a rightful favorite over the Panthers.

Pitt's record for the present season is not as brilliant as that boasted by the Plaid, nor is the Pitt squad nearly as powerful as the Steffenmen. West Virginia has already taken a fall out of the boys. Lack of weight and reserve material causes the Pitt outlook to assume a doubtful hue—in fact, it takes a brave heart to predict a Pitt triumph.

PITT STAR HURT

Not the least of the worries of Pitt is the fact that the varsity will in all likelihood be forced to take the field on the morrow without the services of Tom Parkinson, the fullback star and the big shot of the backfield. Parkinson has been unable to don a uniform this week, due to four crushed ribs. His loss, especially since the dearth of replacement material is so great, erases practically all the hope that Pitt has held of downing the Skibos.

The teams will not return to the city until shortly before game time tomorrow. Until that time, the starting lineups will be in doubt. Prior to leaving for their retreats Thursday morning, Coaches Sutherland and Waddell indicated they would use the same first-string elevens for the opening whistle that have been used in earlier games this fall.

DUKES END TRAINING

Extra Pitt-Tech Tilt Ducats to Go on Sale

To accommodate fans wishing to purchase general admission seats for the Pitt-Carnegie Tech football game in the Stadium tomorrow, the Pitt officials have announced that 1,300 tickets at $1.25 will be placed on sale at noon tomorrow at the Stadium ticket booths.

The general admission zone will accommodate 1,500 spectators, but only 1,300 tickets are to be sold, thereby eliminating any crowding of fans.

Speaking Of Sports

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

THE fact that Carnegie Tech is a decided favorite to defeat Pitt in their annual battle at the Stadium tomorrow afternoon does not mean a great deal. It is a comparatively easy matter for the favorite in this annual tussle for the city championship to be knocked for the proverbial row of ash cans.

In the history of gridiron meetings between the local rivals, Pitt has won 11 battles and Tech three. The real duelling between the pair dates back to the resumption of relations in 1923, after a lapse of three years because the rivalry had grown so hot that it was causing riots among the students of the neighboring institutions and it was thought best to call a halt until their ardor cooled off a bit. Tech had not won a game in these early clashes.

Pitt was the favorite in that 1923 game, but bowed to Judge Steffen's athletes by a score of 7 to 0. The next year, Tech repeated, 6-0, although Pitt again was the favorite. Pitt won, as it figured to, in 1925, by a score of 12 to 0. Tech won, 14-0, in 1926, when it also defeated Notre Dame, 19-0, and last year Gibby Welch's crack undefeated Pitt eleven triumphed, 23 to 7. Just what is in the cards for tomorrow remains to be seen. Tech holds the edge, three games to two, in the new series, and only an upset of the dope can prevent it from increasing this margin.

LAST Saturday's collegiate football games were productive of fewer upsets than those of any week-end since the season opened, but tomorrow's battles give plenty of promise of bringing the average up to normal again.

One of the biggest reversals is possible in the Pitt-Tech skirmish.

Other battles of great interest which are liable to develop startling upsets of the dope include: Yale vs. Army, conqueror of Harvard last week; Princeton vs. Cornell, Harvard vs. Dartmouth, Lafayette vs. West Virginia, Penn State vs. Syracuse, Penn vs. Navy, Illinois vs. Northwestern, Indiana vs. Ohio State, Iowa vs. Minnesota, Nebraska vs. Missouri, thrice-defeated Michigan vs. Wisconsin, Notre Dame vs. Drake, California vs. Olympic A. C., Occidental vs. Southern California and Washington vs. Oregon Aggies.

Last year, Penn State defeated Syracuse, 9-6; Yale won

JOHN MURRELL

Fullback of the Army eleven of West Point, who will be called upon to match the efforts of the great Johnny Garvey, Yale halfback, in the battle between the Army Mule and the Yale Bulldog at New Haven tomorrow. Murrell was the big gun in Army's 15-0 victory over Harvard last Saturday. He scored one of the two touchdowns and played an important part in leading up to the other one.

JONES, BUCKNELL STAR, SPRINGS CHARLEYHORSE

LEWISBURG, Pa., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The addition of Charley Jones, fleet halfback, to the list of Bucknell injured, has further handicapped the Bisons for their game with Gettysburg tomorrow. Jones developed the first serious Charleyhorse of the Bucknell season and will be out of the lineup along with Ellor, the Bisons' regular kicking and punting star. In the absence of Jones, Ammerman of Tyrone and Slate of Weirton, W. Va., will alternate at his halfback post.

PECK FOULED, MAYBERRY IN DRAW AT MARIETTA

MARIETTA, O., Oct. 26.—Georgie Peck of Pittsburgh won on a foul from Shifty Dando of Cincinnati, and Howard Mayberry of Charleroi and Eddie O'Dowd of Columbus fought a draw in the double windup of two 10-round bouts here last night.

The Peck-Dando battle came to an abrupt ending in the third round when the Cincinnati lad landed a low blow. Up to that time the Pittsburgher had floored his opponent three times.

HAWK ACE TO COME TO BUCS

By CARL W. SHATTO.

WITH adhesive tape for all and liniment for everybody, Manager Odie Cleghorn and his Pirates opened the hockey season for hockey players at Duquesne Garden at noon today.

In no other sport are bandages and liniment as extensively used as they are in hockey. It was a shortage of ingredients for patching up torn and bruised bodies that figured prominently in the postponement of the initial workout from yesterday to today, but the first-aid squad now is fully armed and the training grind was opened without further delay.

Players out to win berths as "regulars" often contribute to the practice session as much furious action as can be found in the most heated of league battles, and the slashing of anatomies with steel blades and the lacerating of scalps with wooden bludgeons are common occurences. When it is considered that the rubber disc which is batted around is as hard as a golf ball and three times as heavy, and that nobody ever observes the royal and ancient custom of shouting "fore," it can be realized what an important part bandages and disenfectants play in ice drills.

LEONARD IN SCENE

Benny Leonard, new owner of the local franchise, is here sans bandages, but with plenty of salve. Benny did his training with Harold Cotton, Roy Worters and Bert McCaffery, holdouts, and he hopes to heal their contract wounds before evening.

Players who participated in the workout today were Paddy Sullivan, former amateur star out to do a comeback at center; Toots Holway, defense man, recently purchased from the Montreal Maroons, and holdovers Harold Darragh, Harold Cotton, Tex White, Bert McCaffery, Herb Drury, Roy Worters, Johnny McKinnon, Roger Smith and Duke McCurry. Hib Milks will not appear until early next week, business matters keeping him in Canada until that time.

Practice was limited to one session today, but Manager Cleghorn will order two workouts each day as soon as his skaters have worked the kinks out of their muscles.

Smith gave Cleghorn a pleasant surprise by reporting at Duquesne Garden just as the players were donning their uniforms for the drill. No word had been received from him up to that time, and for a time it was thought that he might not return to the fold.

BUCS TO GET M'KAY

While the Bucs were putting in their two hours of skating and stick-handling, Leonard was putting in long-distance calls and limbering up on handling the telephone. Officials of the Chicago Blackhawks were the men who worked out with the Pirates' owner in the conversation drill, and at its conclusion Leonard announced that negotiations for the purchase of Mickey McKay, one of the aces of the Chicago squad, practically had been closed. He expressed confidence that he would be able to clinch the deal this evening.

McKay is one of the fastest, if not the fastest, skater in the National League. He isa skillful stick-handler, and, although he is a wingman by nature, he is sufficiently rugged to permit using him at defense should the occasion demand.

John Herlihy, of Hazelwood gave the workout "local color." Herlihy was recommended to Cleghorn by Sullivan, and the Pirate skipper gave him a chance to do his stuff. Herlihy broke into hockey with New Jersey amateur teams, but he appears to be too light and inexperienced for big league play.

SCHENLEY, OLIVER MEET

HIGH SCHOOL football interest of the city will center today on the intersectional battle between Oliver High of the North Side and Walter Gross' Schenley High eleven, scheduled for the Bellefielders' gridiron. Two other City League engagements and the Allegheny - Shady Side fracas complete the day's card.

Oliver, suffering a defeat at the hands of the rampaging South Hills eleven, has been all but eliminated from the Section 2 race, but boasts a powerful team, especially strong on the line. Schenley is one of the three ranking teams in Section 1, and figures to be at least an even choice against the North Side invaders today, if not a favorite.

Schenley turned in a triumph over Oliver in the 1927 meeting between the two elevens. Both teams are in good physical trim. A record crowd is anticipated.

In Section 2, Langley and Carrick, both out of the championship running, tangle at Carrick. South Hills and Dormont, the former the ruling favorite to win the Section 2 title, will meet at Dormont. Both of these elevens are seeking the championship of the Hilltop district.

Shady Side Academy is in the role of host today to Allegheny. The North Side eleven has been established as a favorite over the Academy team, though it is not expected that the game will result in a walkaway.

WESTINGHOUSE VICTOR

In the only scholastic contest yesterday, the championship-holding Westinghouse High eleven romped over Fifth Avenue High to score a 27-to-6 victory on Malone field. The Downtowners threw consternation into the ranks of the Silver Lakers when they scored the first touchdown of the game in the second period, Scanlon turning the trick, and led by the lone tally at the intermission. Matoney, Ware, who got two, and Ormiston, retaliated with touchdowns in the second half, however. The lineup:

WESTINGHOUSE—27.		FIFTH AVE.—6.
Wadsworth	L. E.	Troilo
McIlveen (A.C.)	L. G.	Beremetstein
Deremer	C.	Klinefelter
Cooper	R. G.	Schwartz (C.)
Zakrawsky	R. T.	Runner
Zeigler	R. E.	Capean
Beckett	Q.	Dipp
Doney	L. H.	Tayer
Santicola	R. H.	Scanlon
Stanford	F.	Greenberg

Score by periods:

Westinghouse	0	0	7	20—27
Fifth Avenue	0	6	0	0— 6

Touchdowns—Scanlon, Matoney, Ware 2. Ormiston. Points after touchdown—Burkeholder (by placement kick); Ormiston (on scrimmage play); Westinghouse (Fifth offside). Substitutes—Westinghouse, McCabe, Dye, Durso, Thompson, Gashagen, Hadley, Benzie, Schaltenbrand, D. De Marchi, Welker, F. De Marchi, Paterson, Matoney, Ware, Ritter, Reilly, Ormiston, Klotz, Nowe, Burkeholder, Mayberry, Hill; Fifth Avenue, Seigel, Cohen. Referee—Dennis. Umpire—Doyle. Head linesman—Bills. Time of periods—12 minutes.

Fight Results

At McKeesport—Davey Adelman defeated Johnny Ryan, 10 rounds; Dominick Proffo defeated Jackie Murray, 6 rounds; Battling Glaxy defeated Ken Hargraves, 6 rounds; Johnny Haggerty defeated Jimmy Kane, 6 rounds.

At Marietta, O.—George Peck won on foul from Shifty Dando, 3 rounds; Howard Mayberry and Eddie O'Dowd drew, 10 rounds.

At Elam, Pa.—Young Ketchel knocked out (technical) Gene Mandeot, 8 rounds; Red Housch defeated Tommy Wilson, 6 rounds; Eddie German defeated Johnny Ralston, 6 rounds; Tommy Loftus defeated Red Saunders, 6 rounds; Freddie Brady and Frankie Nelson drew, 6 rounds.

At Jersey City—Cuban Bobby Brown knocked out (technical) Gene McCue, 4 rounds; Midget Fox and Harry Carlton drew, 8 rounds.

At London—Jack Hood knocked out Bruno Frattini, 3 rounds; Teddy Baldock knocked out Phil Loisky, 3 rounds.

INJURED GRIDDER OUT OF HOSPITAL

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 26.—Lawrence Jobes, 25, of Denora, believed to have been seriously injured in a football game between the Company A team, of Monongahela, and the Library eleven, has been discharged from the hospital. William Charles Young, 29, a teammate of Jobes' was fatally injured earlier in the season, dying in the Monongahela Hospital October 5.

DRAW IS MADE FOR SOCCER CUP PLAY

With the draw for the Western Pennsylvania senior cup as the principal business to be transacted the Western Pennsylvania Soccer Football Association met last evening with the council and cup committee on hand. Only four games will be played as a preliminary to the first round proper, these games being scheduled on or before November 4 and they resulted as follows: Douglas at Westinghouse, Corinthians at Heidelberg, Herminie at the German Sport Club and the Union Switch and Signal at Pittsburgh Celtics. Pittsburgh Rovers, Dunlevy, Pittsburgh Soccer club and National Tube drew byes.

The first round proper games will be played on Thanksgiving Day. It was also decided that in the case of a Saturday and Sunday team clashing, the home team should have the preference.

To Be Millionaire, Hatch New Idea; Latest Example

—By B. C. FORBES—

IF YOU can hatch a good new idea there is practically no limit to the millions you can make in this country. Conceive a better way of doing something or develop a better product and, lo, you are on the highway to millionairedom. Americans like something new. They also like the best. And millions of them have money to gratify their tastes and desires.

The latest illustration of this fact is interesting.

A STUDIOUS Frenchman worked out in his laboratory what he was sure was an improved kind of electric light display sign. After much painstaking toil, he obtained patents for his process. He turned his eyes steward America as the leading country in the world and the most progressive in advertising. But he discovered that the Americans he approached were all very much from Missouri. In other words, they were skeptical. Finally, his able representative here, W. T. P. Hollingsworth, aroused the interest of one alert capitalist, George I. Cochran, of Los Angeles, and he induced John B. Miller, head of Southern California Edisosn, to have his research department dig into the proposition. They reported favorably.

A COMPANY was formed. It made a very promising start. The new idea and the new product caught on.

Then troubles galore were encountered. Pirates stole the idea and invaded the field. The Frenchman and his American associates found themselves under the necessity of bringing lawsuits against the "bootleggers." These legal battles have been raging ever since, until this week the United States Supreme Court upheld the Frenchman's patents.

Notwithstanding all these distractions and obstacles, the Frenchman's idea is rapidly making him rich, and also all the Americans who finally developed faith in his project. Already each $1,000 invested in the stock is today worth $10,000.

BUT more interesting than this are the facts showing how eagerly Americans adopt an attractive new idea and product. In less than four years subsidiary companies have been organized, supported by local capitalists, in 60 North American cities, covering nearly every state and including Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

Here are facts taken from the latest issue of the company's house organ which show the possibilities for marketing an idea in this progressive country of ours:

During the last year, in the West, factories at Los Angeles, Portland, Oakland and Denver have been enlarged and operations started in Salt Lake City, Vancouver and Mexico City, and already "all are running at close to peak figures." Eighteen months ago the first Middlewest plant was located in Chicago. It now operates branch offices in 12 cities and additional factories have been built in St. Louis, New Orleans, Dallas and Houston. Plants are also being built in Minneapolis and Shreveport. In Pittsburgh a new factory covering an entire block is nearing completion. Night and day work is the rule in the Atlanta factory and a branch has been opened at Birmingham.

Baltimore has a factory, with a branch office in Washington. Another organization has headquarters in Miami and branches in Jacksonville, Tampa and West Palm Beach. A new plant has been completed at Montreal to augment the one at Toronto. The Buffalo plant is being extended.

THIS writer has been receiving an increasing flood of letters complaining that the birth, growth and multiplication of huge business organizations are killing opportunities for individuals to launch or make headway with a business of their own. "You must surrender to a powerful consolidation or starve," is the tenor of many letters. Others declare that it takes far more capital to start a business than all but a few favored individuals, sons of the rich, can command.

THE facts here presented reveal that the opportunities for superior brains are greater in this country today than ever before. Of course, the competitive pace has become so swift and business efficiency has reached such a standard that mediocrities stand little chance of holding their own and waxing wealthy. The big rewards are not for mediocrities. Those of us who have not evolved any bright new idea or developed any superior ability must be content with such rewards as our talents bring. That is the way of the world. Has it not always been the way of the world?

BUT let no able, ambitious young man sink into a pessimistic mental attitude towards the possibilities abounding in this richest and most progressive of all countries.

Soviet's Foreign Trade.

Armtorg Trading Corporation reports foreign trade turnover of the Soviet Union for the year ended September 30 was the largest of the post-war period. Trade across European frontiers totaled 1,455,900,000 rubles (n749,836,000). 12 per cent above the preceding year's total. Imports reached 819,900,000 rubles (about $400,000,000), a record for 10 years, and 31 per cent above 1927.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS FIRM UNDERTONE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—(AP.)—The stock market displayed a firm undertone today in the face of a recurrence of 8 per cent call money and an increase of $107,000,000 in brokers' loans. Buying was again rather selective in character, but a long list of merchandising, copper, public utility and aeronautical issues registered substantial gains, several of which ran from 4 to 12¼ points. Week-end profit-taking was again rather heavy, but, with few exceptions, the declines were held to from 1 to 3 points.

Call money renewed at 7½, but advanced to 8 as banks called $20,000,000 in loans. Wall street found some comfort, however, in the recent reassuring statements on the soundness of credit conditions by Charles E. Mitchell and other leading bankers. Except for the usual month-end firming up of money rates, bankers generally look for relatively easy monetary conditions for the rest of the year.

Considerable stress was laid in commission house comment on the excellent character of a large majority of the earnings reports now being published. This, together with the fact that no signs of any marked recession have yet developed in any of the basic industries, helped to maintain bullish enthusiasm.

A further advance of ¼ of a cent a pound to 16 cents in the price of export copper brought fresh buying into that group. American Smelting and Kennecott each ran up more than 5 points to a new peak at 272¼ and 122½, respectively, and Greene Cananea recorded an extreme gain of more than 8 points.

Oils were mixed. Marland moved into new high ground, but Sinclair and Barnsdall, which were in the forefront of the recent advance in that group, fell back on realizing. General Motors rallied 2 points on buying influenced by the publication of record-breaking third quarter earnings, but lost its gain. Chrysler also was heavy, while Jordan moved up more than 2 points to a new high on merger rumors.

Montgomery Ward came back into the speculative spotlight with an extreme gain of 12¼ points. R. H. Macy, Radio, Shubert Theaters, Best & Co., National Dairy Products, Wright, Sears, Roebuck and National Bellas Hess sold 4 to 5 points higher.

International Harvester fell back 7½ points, Atlas Powder 4, American Machine and Foundry 3 and Howe Sound, General Ice Cream and Century Ribbon yielded 2 points or more.

3 MILLION BOND SALE O. K.'D FOR P. & W. VA.

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

ANOTHER step toward the linking of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway with the Western Maryland at Connellsville was taken yesterday with the authorization of the sale of $3,000,000 of first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds to Brown Brothers & Company. The issue will be the first of a series of bond offerings to be used in the financing of the extension.

Stockholders on Wednesday authorized directors to issue $50,000,000 of bonds although a total of only $10,000,000 will be needed for the Connellsville extension.

No announcement has been made of the purpose of the additional bonds authorized. It is quite likely that directors wish to have them in reserve to provide for the acquisition of other railroad properties or securities if this should be necessary to insure Pittsburgh & West Virginia's position in future mergers.

THE company is in an exceptionally strong financial situation for a railroad property. Its funded debt outstanding before the authorization yesterday was only $3,832,000, divided between two issues of equipment trust notes. This smal debt is enabling the road to sell securities to provide for the extension on a very favorable basis.

The steady growth in coal traffic this year has materially contributed to Pittsburgh & West Virginia's earnings. Before the strike about half of the tonnage handled was coal. Earnings last year were sharply reduced as a result of the loss of much of this business, but a constant improvement has taken place this year.

SURPLUS after charges in September was $218,380 compared with $167,218 in May, 1927. In the first nine months of this year surplus after charges was $1,477,609, or $4.88 a share on the stock. This compared with $1,345,995, or $4.45 a share, in the corresponding period of 1927.

Dividends on the 302,351 shares of stock have been earned this year by a small margin. The stock is on a $6 annual basis so that requirements in the nine months were $4.50 a share.

BETTER conditions in the oil industry are allowing the Transcontinental Oil Company to take advantage of new fields which were discovered just as the market for oil was reaching a saturation point.

The company earned $825,066 in the third quarter of this year after depreciation and depletion but before Federal taxes. This compared with $493,612 in the previous quarter and a loss of $221,037 in the third quarter of 1927.

WITH the greatest potential production it has ever had, Transcontinental now promises to take an established position in the industry. New discoveries materialy increased production in 1926, but the slump in the market for oil resulted in a deficit of $1,580,146 in 1927.

The profit of $1,248,032 in the first nine months of this year was equivalent to $7.90 a share on the $15,750,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock. Cumulative and unpaid dividends on this issue amounted to $31.50 a share in August.

Working capital recently was substantially improved by the sale of $12,000,000 of first mortgage ten-year 6½ per cent sinking fund bonds. Part of the proceeds were used to retire 8 per cent bonds and 7 per cent notes.

SPORT COMMENT

By JAMES J. LONG

ball carrier for the Thundering Herd, suffered a broken leg, and the attention given to him by the Geneva management and players is what prompted Bucknell men to sing the praises of the Beaver Falls institution in Eastern football circles.

DISCUSSING Quinn's mishap with Stan Baumgartner, Philadelphia critic, Coach Snavely said: "It is surprising how well Geneva is prepared for accidents of that sort in football. Actually a big white ambulance was parked along the sidelines, and a few seconds after the whistle was blown it raced on the field and gathered up Quinn to remove him to the infirmary for immediate treatment.

"It was an ugly accident, and the Geneva boys felt as badly as our own men. After the game they took up a collection among themselves, and kept Mose's room in the hospital full of flowers. And so far I haven't received a bill for the medical services. That is what I call real hospitality."

QUINN was able to leave the infirmary, on crutches, in time to see his mates battle Lafayette to a scoreless tie. "That accident cured me of superstition," he said. "For three years, that is up to this season, I had worn a jersey with number 11 on it. But this fall Coach Snavely gave me 43. I didn't like it. It didn't seem to fit me and I fidgeted around with it on my back. I used it in the Susquehanna game and didn't do so well. This made me sure that 43 was jinxing me so I went to the coach and asked him for my old number. 'You certainly can have 11 if you want it,' declared Snavely. When I walked on the Geneva field I proudly sported a big 11 on my back. And then on the first play of the game, in which I carried the ball, one of my legs was broken. And it is my last year in college football, too."

Carl Snavely

over Army, 10-6; Harvard bowed to Dartmouth, 30-6; Lafayette and West Virginia played a 7-7 tie; Princeton downed Cornell, 21-10; Navy defeated Penn, 12-6; Pitt defeated Carnegie Tech, 23-7; Illinois downed Northwestern, 7-6; Michigan won over Wisconsin, 14-0; Notre Dame defeated Drake, 32-0; Nebraska lost, 7-6, to Missouri; California triumphed over the Olympic A. C., 21-0, and Southern California topped Occidental, 33-0.

A POWERFUL Yale eleven has not been cut loose so far this season, Garvey, the star, having played not more than a half-hour in all the games put together. He was in the Brown game last Saturday only about 12 minutes, during which time he scored two touchdowns. He will be primed to match the brilliant Chris Cagle and John Murrell of the Army tomorrow.

Syracuse last week outplayed Nebraska, only to lose, 7-6, Missouri, which last year defeated Nebraska, is strong again this season, having opened with a 60-0 victory over Center College and being undefeated thus far.

Princeton has uncovered a new halfback star in Holmes Thompson (Trix) Bennett, former Crafton High School player, who was a riot against Lehigh last week and is being mentioned in the same breath with Don Lourie, Jake Slagle and other former stars of Jungleland. He prepped at Hun School, Princeton, after leaving Crafton.

Lafayette was held to a scoreless tie by Bucknell last Saturday and will have to come back to beat the West Virginia eleven that defeated Pitt. Penn State was losing to a good Penn team last Saturday while Syracuse was bowing to Nebraska. Navy has been a bust so far and does not loom as a serious threat against Penn, but may find itself in this game.

Harvard isn't up to the Crimson standard and Dartmouth is likely to repeat last year's victory. Judging from the way things have been going in the Big Ten, almost anything may happen in its games tomorrow.

In connection with the defense of Ed (Strangler) Lewis' title against one John Paul Jones, of Texas, at the Arena in Philadelphia tonight, it might be apropos to mention the fact that, despite the seeming great activity in the thriving business, there have been an amazingly small number of transfers of the heavyweight wrestling championship. Only eight men have been recognized as wearers of the royal purple in the last 25 years, two of them, Lewis and Joe Stecher, twice losing and regaining the honor.

BEGINNING with 1903, or a quarter of a century ago, George Hackenschmidt was the champion, until 1908, when he lost to Frank Gotch, who reigned until 1916, since which time the title has changed hands frequently.

Upon the passing of Gotch from the picture, Stecher became the recognized champion. Two years later, in 1918, he lost to Earl Caddock, but regained the title in 1920 and lost it the following year to Wladek Zbyszko, who speedily was dethroned by Lewis the same year and lost the next year to Stanislaus Zbyszko and regained the top the same year and has reigned ever since with the exception of a short period during which Wayne Munn, Stanislaus Zbyszko and Stecher shared the crown in a grand ballyhoo.

Lewis will defend his title tonight under the Pennsylvania commission's one-fall-to-a-decision rule.

It appears that the fullback of the Kiski football team has been hiding his light under a bushel during most of this season through no fault of his own. His real name is Michael Vuchinich, but the lineups have carried him as "Mitler." Mitler is his nickname. For the sake of the records and posterity, let it be recorded here and now that Mitler really is Vuchinich and whosoever sets him down as Mitler does him a grave injustice. Vuchinich it is and Vuchinich it should be.

Four clubs were in the thick of the National League fight right down the home stretch with the Reds and Dodgers winding up over the .500 margin.

All honor to Ruth, Gehrig and company, but don't underestimate the collective strength of the National.

BRITISH WELTER CHAMP STOPS ITALIAN STAR

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Jack Hood, of Birmingham, welterweight champion of Great Britain, stopped Bruno Frattini, of Italy, in the third round of their bout at Albert Hall last night. The Italian was completely outclassed and after he went down thrice in the third round, the referee stopped the fight just as Frattini's seconds tossed in the towel.

Teddy Baldock, crack British bantam, knocked out Phil Sky, of Aldgate, in the third round of another bout.

THE PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for fruit and vegetables was good today at the local wholesale produce district and the quotations were about unchanged.

The butter market was about steady. Eggs and cheese were steady. No change was made in the quotations on these markets.

Poultry supplies were nominal, with the market steady, demand fair and quotations unchanged.

Car lot supplies were liberal, a total of 693 cars being on track. Arrivals included 23 cars of apples, 3 cabbage, 10 grapefruits, 52 grapes, 2 onions, 9 oranges, 8 pears, 5 peppers, 18 potatoes, 7 sweet potatoes, 4 cauliflower and 1 turnips.

PITT-TECH

ous drills on their Bluff gridiron, the Dukes have been prepping for their all-important tussle at Beaver Falls tomorrow with Geneva. This game is the big one of the year in the conference. The winner will be a 100-to-1 shot to cop the championship. Geneva, unbeaten in Conference play this fall and with a fine eleven, is pointing for the Dukes, who have conquered Wash-Jeff in their great gesture for fame. It will be the first Conference tussle of the year for the locals.

A special train will be run over the P. R. R. to Beaver Falls tomorrow to carry the Duke followers to the game.

The battle looms as a battle of forward passes. Both elevens employ this department of the game overtime. It was via the air that the Dukes beat back Wash-Jeff, and the Covenanters used their passes to crush Thiel a week ago under a 28-to-0 score.

Duke hopes for a victory were somewhat dimmed yesterday when it was announced that Doggo Burns, crack halfback star, would be unable to don a uniform. Burns suffered an injury to his knee in the game with the Presidents and was kept out of action against Loyola University last week by Coach Layden in the hope that he would be available for duty against Geneva. His knee has failed to respond to treatment, and he will not accompany the team as a player tomorrow.

The Duke lineup, with Burns definitely out, will include McCarthy, Capt. Donnelli, Benedict and either Kovalchek or Steeves in the backfield; Czinki and Guerrier at the ends; Kirby and Skender, tackles; Kelleher and Clark, guards, and Pat Lally, center.

The Dukes went through a heavy drill yesterday. Today they'll be given a light workout, which will consist in the main of signal drill.

Voting Machine Vote "Most Forward Step"

State Senator Frank J. Harris, speaking to a radio audience in behalf of Amendment No. 13, on the November ballot, which would change the Constitution to permit, but not require, the use of voting machines, declared it "will be the most forward step in the history of the state."

Why? Because it will give the people opportunity of making use of a device that not only makes for honesty of count but puts modern efficiency in the process of voting. It will be the greatest safeguard against cheating by dishonest election boards that the voters ever have had a chance to adopt.

Heretofore election reform methods have been matters for legislative juggling by men of political bias and of varying degrees of selfish interest. Citizens have had no decisive voice. In this amendment they now have the only voice. It is up to them to say whether they want to open the way for the use of voting machines, which other states have found most satisfactory.

"Let us," said Senator Harris, "put teeth in our election laws and blot out the sham by giving our people the power to get voting machines if they want them."

Senator Harris has done splendid work for the voting machine amendment. He was instrumental in securing indorsement by political organizations in the county and state.

But that does not mean that all politicians are for it. Some of them see in it a threat against their power, and it is said the word has been circulated by them that this amendment be smothered at the polls. That is something the citizens should not permit through their neglect.

Pennsylvania's ballot scandals in recent years have smelled to Heaven. Here's the honest voter's opportunity to hit back at the ballot thieves.

Do not forget to vote for Amendment No. 13 November 6.

Robertson Asked "Why?" Of Bus Fare, Car Service

As a basis, it is assumed, of a movement to obtain for the public better street car service and relief from the gross overcharge in fares on the Pittsburgh Railways Company busses, the Allied Boards of Trade have asked A. W. Robertson, president of the Byllesby companies in Pittsburgh, a number of pertinent questions. Many of them relate to finance, management and charges, but several bear directly upon street car service and bus fares.

"Is not your (bus) fare," runs one inquiry, "very much in excess of that charged in other cities of like topography? If so, why?"

It is to be hoped that the Allied Boards of Trade can get a more satisfactory reply to that question than Mr. Robertson so far has seen fit to give to the public. As for the first part of this question, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sent a member of its staff on an extended tour of cities to get the answer. He found that service in Pittsburgh is duplicated in other cities for two-fifths of what the Byllesby busses in Pittsburgh charge.

As to "why?"—that is something the Pittsburgh public would like to know.

Don't Fear Expense

The Public Pays.

Mr. Aylesworth, managing director of an electric light association, intelligent citizen, urges his directors to spend money freely on publicity and propaganda, saying, "Don't be afraid of expense, the PUBLIC pays the expense."

The public does pay, and the big public monopolies are liberal in their spending. One learned professor of Alabama's State University told a Senate committee, investigating Power Trust propaganda in schools, newspapers, women's organizations, etc., that he got $666 a month salary from the Trust.

He thought he earned it, and probably did.

Cruel and Unworthy

A Deadly "Students' Prank."

Fraternity students of Austin, Texas, initiating Nolte McElroy, 19 years old, evolved the happy idea of compelling the boy to crawl through metal springs that had been connected with electric light wires.

McElroy died, and the fraternity says he fainted, that electricity did not kill him.

Secret fraternities, and brutal initiations, prove that a youth at a certain age is on the red Indian's level of civilization.

What?

What! Another Kaiser?

The German Nationalists, trying to abolish the German Republic and bring back the monarchy say it "is necessary to bring back a Kaiser, to defend Germany from Anglo-French encircling tactics."

Men not very old remember some Anglo-French-Italian-Russian encircling tactics that occurred in 1914. The Hohenzollerns didn't prove so successful in meeting those tactics.

Bible Passages

The Lost Sheep

(Luke 15; 1-10.)

THEN drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him.

And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

And he spake this parable unto them, saying:

What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?

And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost.

Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

The Fifth Wheel

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE KATZENBACH told a New Jersey grand jury that fathers are as useless as fifth wheels on the family vehicle nowadays.

But is a fifth wheel useless? Our understanding is that a fifth wheel is the one that is tucked on the fender or the car or clamped to the rear for emergency use. It is the insurance against mishap, the wheel that brings the family safely home when any other fails. Wise motorists carry two of them on a long trip.

So if father is a fifth wheel, there need be no indignity in the position. The fifth wheel is usually one that has done its duty nobly and well and deserves the rest it receives. It is always conspicuous, usually well cared for, often gaily dolled up with a waterproof coat and held close to the car with shining metal. Then when one of the new wheels collapses under the heavy going or blowout without warning, the fifth wheel returns to duty.

This is no time of year to sneer at a fifth wheel. Christmas is coming and most families will find the going heavy for the whole family, especially when the bills come in. Better be kind to the fifth wheel these days, wives and daughters.

Scandal

THERE are some persons who are constantly trying to create a situation.

They have not enough to do, or they are too lazy to exert themselves in useful endeavor so they try to amuse themselves at the expense of others.

They wonder how this one or that one would act under certain conditions.

They proceed to bring about unusual conditions which are unpleasant for others, and then get a certain kind of enjoyment out of seeing these people get out of these predicaments.

The more they squirm the better they like it.

When they find a person who is master of the situation and who does not fall into their traps they are not so happy.

It is a pretty good plan not to pay too much attention to what others might think about your affairs.

In the first place there are too many who don't hesitate to tell a lie if it will get the results they are after.

And when disagreeable reports are made to you, it is rather uncertain wisdom to be governed by what is said.

Have an object in life, keep your eyes on the goal, be deaf to those who seek to distract your attention to side channels, and the tactics of these would-be disturbers will be put to naught.

PERIODICITY

By Garrett P. Serviss

THERE are mysteries about finger prints. The malefactor wonders how they betray him, though he has no doubt of their ability to do so. All fingerprints look much alike to the inattentive eye; but to the trained eye they are as different as faces. Detection comes through comparison. Things that look alike are assumed to be alike in other particulars besides looks.

The accompanying photograph resembles a magnified fingerprint, doesn't it? However, it is not a fingerprint at all. Yet the superficial resemblance may indicate a deep lying something connecting this desiccated specimens of a colloidal (jelly-like) substance with the striations on your finger. That something is the phenomenon of periodicity, which science is discovering in so many unanticipated places and shapes that the question becomes serious whether it is not the most universal characteristic of living nature; and not only that, but of inanimate nature as well.

We live with the life of waves, of undulations, of rhythmical repetitions of recurrent states. Sir Oliver Lodge once said that a mathematical physicist if cornered for a precise description of a wave would refuse to give any other definition than "a phenomenon periodic in both time and space." Some phenomenon of that kind prints your fingers with the identifying wave-like marks, so dear to the police detectives and so puzzling to their possessor—if he ever notices or thinks about them.

Both physically and mentally our life is a ceaseless iteration, an oscillation; yet it comes somewhat as a surprise to find that periodicity brands us as we grow older with lines strikingly like those seen in the trunk of a tree, or formed by a mass of gelatine drying up. In the pearl oyster periodicity stamps its initials in the successive layers of the forming gems.

The bacilli that attack us within our entrenchments act periodically. Crystallization is affected by periodicity in both organic and ironganic substances. Beauty and ugliness are both produced by periodic effects. The color schemes of flowers and of insects' wings, the beauty of feathers and plumes, the astonishing figures and resemblances found in agate—in short, the innumerable harmonies of all nature arise from this great basal phenomenon.

Man's interior life, that is, his intellectual and moral existence, is shaped by the same influence. No one is free from moods that come and go and come again. The mind oscillates like a colloid. We find ourselves brought over and over to the verge of the same doubts. We swing to and fro between the high lights, passing after every turn, through the nadir, where we are as shaken as Bunyan's Pilgrim in the Valley of the Shadow.

No matter how deep you penetrate into the fundamental things of the universe, you always find signs of the action of periodicity. The new wave (periodic) theory of atomic constitution seems to dispose of the picturesque "planetary electrons." "Well, what about it?" There is this about it; science is just beginning to concentrate its efforts upon a phenomenon which it finds so continually before its eyes—and it may prove to be a broad opening into the heart of nature's secrets.

Tales That Are Told

The Great Advantage

THERE was a rumpus in the family. The daughter of the house had come in an hour ago with the news that she was engaged to Algernon Pantwhistle, and no one approved her choice. Mother had done her best to dissuade her; now it was father's turn.

"My dear Millie," he said, "you would be making the biggest mistake of your life. Surely you could not bring yourself to marry such an awful flat as that fellow? Take my advice and think twice over it."

Millie tossed her head back in defiance.

"Why shouldn't I marry him?" she rejoined. "He may be a flat; but, having a car, a house of his own, and a couple of thousand a year, he is at least a flat with every modern convenience."

Not Guilty!

"IT'S a lie!" declared the secretary of the holiday club, when confronted with evidence which purported to show that he had appropriated funds which did not belong to him.

"It's a wicked lie, a wicked prevarication, an insult, and an injury and a slander! I repeat, I did not take that money," continued the wronged man. "I shall not let this charge besmirch my name. I shall fight with tooth and nail to clear my name, and in the end people will realize they have accused the wrong party. I did not take the money, and I shall fight the charge that I did to the last ditch, even if it takes every penny of it!"

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

GUYS that are out late and look like easy marks are often asked for all kinds of dough in the big cities. All kinds of panhandlers live off them, because the panhandlers think that these guys don't need the money anyhow.

So there was a young man in evening clothes that was trying to get home at 4 a. m., and a panhandler says to him, "Please, Mister, can you spare a dollar to a poor fellow for a drink?"

"A dollar?" says the guy. "Why, you can get a drink for less than that, can't you."

"Now, see here," says the panhandler, "you know your business and I know mine. Don't try to tell me how to regulate my expenditures, just because you happen to be a prospective patron."

Your Choice

THERE'S a choice to be made in whatever you do.
It is yours to be gloomy or gay,
And the wise man will choose for the whole journey through
To travel the sunshiny way.

You can look, if you will, at man far above
Who is favored by fortune and fame,
Or look down where the humble in poverty move,
Yet with courage are playing life's game.

There's a choice, ever yours, in each move that you make,
And the way of your choice tells the tale,
For the sunshine or shade of the road that you take
Shows how wisdom or folly prevail.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Thoughts while strolling: A shop called "We Fix It." The preacher who became a night hawk taxi driver. Maurice's widow—Eleanor Ambrose. There are people who actually look like Andy Gump. George M. Cohan, a Providence (R. I.) boy, who made good in the city. The skyline caulked with fog.

Those irritating three-toned taxi horns. The craze for window flower boxes in office buildings. The Caponi gang got me—No, just some automobiles back firing. People who do their reading in public parks. Cartier, the swank jeweler. Traffic policemen twirling their whistles.

Apartment houses that never flaunt "For Rent" signs, but display brass plates reading "Vacancies." Chauffeurs with waxed mustaches. A tiny Peke with a huge muzzle. Looks like my old lead dog in the Yukon. A wheel rolls off a taxi and a block becomes inert. Vincent Astor's heavy tan. The theatrical producer who seeks publicity by featuring need of a shave.

Whatever became of that 10-year-old chess prodigy? A French cafe with an Irish head waiter. Begorra!. Women buyers with such commanding manners. And their shrinking hen pecked husbands. The chocolate-peppermint soda rage. Constant pals—two actresses who divorced husbands for slapping them.

Clare Briggs and Harry Staton in golf things. Why are restaurants just out of dishes you want most? Sammy Lee, who trains dancing acts for musical shows. And isn't a Chinaman, Jules Bledsoe, the Negro singer. Even a hotel detective has an air of mystery. Nice boys, the house dicks. Rap, rap, rap! "That lady must get out of there!"

The hot dog vendor who cries "Warm Spaniels." Paul Whiteman's car wth the extra sized door. That "Wet Paint" sign wasn't foolin'. It thoroughly convinced me. Press agents become public relation counsels and now they are "Good Will Experts." Never hear of cholera morbus any more. There was an ailment!

Margaret Illington. What a superb actress in her day! And her courtly husband, Major Bowes. New York's abrupt "Keep Off" signs. A push cart sale a few blocks from Fifth avenue. That sudden calm before the homecoming rush. And tomorrow is just another day. But see if I care!

A heavy spending Broadwayite established a new high record for his art last week. He took over an entire Park avenue cafe for 97 guests, tipped the head waiter $200, the waiter captains $50, the waiters $20 and the hat checkers $10 each. The dinner was $25 a plate. I wonder if anyone knows of a place where a thin guy on a diet can get a good dinner for around $5 these days.

DEAD SPOTS

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

Said Poor Richard, holding a little dialogue with himself:

"Who is wise?"

"He that learns from every one."

"Who is powerful?"

"He that governs his passions."

"Who is rich?"

"He that is content."

"Who is that?"

"Nobody."

So let's give it up! We will be happier if we do. Let's give up seeking the perfect men.

The philosopher-slave of the Roman age, Epictetus, wrote: "To look for the fig in winter is the madman's act."

Looking for faultless humans is searching for winter figs.

We are not intended to be perfect—yet.

We are intended to grow. That is what you are here for. That is what all the others are here for.

Imperfection is everywhere—the dead point in the turn of the wheel, the blind spot in the human eye, "dead spots" on the face of the earth where radios refuse to function.

And especially in the characters of men, imperfections great and small. "Man partly is and wholly hopes to be."

Let it go at that. Cease the endless disappointments caused by seeking the winter figs of human perfections.

As Professor Potter observes, this world is not a completed orchestra playing endless harmonies.

It is a piano factory where pounding, sawing, odds and ends, shavings and sawdust fill the room.

It is a place of preparation, but out of it in the end will come music.

If you conceive of this world as finished, you are surprised and continually saddened by seeing imperfections in those around you. It puts your attention upon the failures.

If you think of it as a place of growth, you have your eye alert to see the unfolding buds of character and you tend to judge men on the far sounder basis of their development rather than upon their attainment alone.

When a building is in the process of erection there is much confusion of saws and hammers and much scaffolding. One who would judge the building while it is going up is a poor judge. When a tree is growing the apples are hard and bitter. A pessimist is one who tastes the growing fruit and says that all fruit is bad.

To test the value of a thing you need not only to know what it is, but what it is going to be.

A mother loves her child not because of what the child is, but what it gives promise to become.

To judge anything in this world that is alive without taking into account the factor of growth is to arrive at erroneous conclusions.

OH, THESE WOMEN

By Leola Allard

DISPATCHES say that an aviator and his wife and four passengers arrived in Paris yesterday.

A Chicago woman whose husband came home feeling pretty flossy and gave her a black eye, divorced him. The decree, through influence, was signed within the next three days.

The husband had always been extremely kind and indulgent, and spent a great deal of money on his attractive and amusing wife.

I saw her recently and she said: "It's all right to get mad, but if the women who contemplate any such step as I took, could know how I feel when the bills roll in the first of the month, and the alimony doesn't reach, they would hesitate. I wish I'd stayed and let him hit me now and then."

Claud Aney, distinguished French author, says that if they fight they are in love.

That's what everybody always has wanted to know. How you could tell for sure?

Anita Keep, once the toast of kings and living in her own villa in Monte Carlo, is living in a Chicago basement and scrubbing floors for a living.

What a story she could tell about what happens in society when beauty fades and riches vanish. She could, no doubt, answer as to which are best, kind hearts or coronets.

A New York girl finally thought up an innovation for her wedding. She had three best men.

If they were the three best men, she should have explained why she took the fourth for her husband.

A new beauty invention bakes a woman's face for six days in salt, thereby getting rid of freckles.

Haven't you seen some hard-boiled faces that freckles couldn't live on? But it took them more than six days to get that way.

An eminent psychologist writes that "a girl developes much more faster than a boy."

Psychologist, not grammarian.

A woman lecturer at the University of California says that the girls are rebelling, and that the boys are "merely the admiring and often breathless tail of the kite."

And it is while the men are out of breath that the largest slices of alimony are taken from them.

Never Too Far

TWENTY-FIVE years ago, when the migration from country to city began, we were told that we people would soon forget the looks of field and forest, river and mountain.

Now the automobile moves entire city populations out into the green country for holidays.

They told us that home life was being destroyed by the rush of parents and children to amusement resorts to break the boredom of an evening together. Now the radio brings to family and friends, assembled at home, a country-wide choice of music nightly. Soon the radio movies will be showing, on the parlor screen, marvelous dramatic programs, cooked up in central amusement kitchens.

There seems a law in nature, and in human invention and progress, which keeps us from straying too far from the fundamental things by which we spiritually live.
